

JUDGE SCHOFIELD

Is Named for the U. S. Bench

BOSTON, May 25.—President Taft yesterday announced the appointment of Justice William Schofield of the Massachusetts superior court to the first judicial circuit of the United States court. Judge Schofield succeeds the late Judge Francis C. Lowell. He is a resident and resides at 150 Summer street, Boston.

Judge Schofield has been for many years a close friend of Senator William Murray Crane. He was born in Dedham, Worcester county, Feb. 14, 1835, the son of John and Margaret (Thompson) Schofield. He was graduated from Harvard university with the class of 1857. In 1858 he received his degree from Harvard law school. From 1858 until 1859 he was instructor in law at Harvard law school, and from 1859 until 1892 he was instructor in Roman law at his alma mater. At this point in his career Mr. Schofield married Edna M. Green of Rutland, Vt.

In 1899 he was elected to the legislature from Malden and served three years. In December, 1903, Governor Crane appointed Representative Schofield to the vacancy on the superior bench caused by the promotion of Justice Bailey to the supreme court of the state.

LAWRENCE GIRL

Found in Lodging House in Lynn

LYNN, May 25.—Quick work by the policemen from Lawrence, assigned to her case, resulted yesterday in the discovery of Miss Nina Dutton, a Lawrence stenographer, who disappeared from the Lynn General hospital Monday.

The disappearance of the girl was telephoned to the Lawrence police, and detectives from that city came here immediately. At noon yesterday the Lawrence police, aided by Marshal Burke's men, discovered her in a lodging house on Warren street. She is now under guard of the Lawrence officers and will be taken to that city today.

Miss Dutton, who was a patient in the Lynn hospital as a result of alleged illegal treatment by a physician, was carried away in an automobile, according to information that was made public yesterday.

Miss Dutton had been in the hospital two weeks. Her case attracted a good deal of attention, because of the beauty of the girl and the fact that a prominent man of this city had been questioned about her case.

Immediately after Miss Dutton was sent to the hospital, it was claimed that she made a statement which caused the arrest of Mrs. Hedwig Hamner of 150 Park street, Lawrence. She was held in $2000 bonds for a hearing May 27.

Miss Nina Dutton escaped from the hospital by jumping out of an open window on the ground floor while the nurse was devoting her attention to other patients.

Her escape is thought to have been planned, for as soon as she appeared on the hospital grounds, to men jumped out of an automobile that was stationed near the hospital entrance and ran to her side and carried her to the automobile. Then all got in and sped away.

GREATER LONDON

Has a Population of 7,252,963

LONDON, May 25.—Provisional figures returned by the census officers give the population of England and Wales this year as 36,675,267, compared with 32,527,543 in 1901. While most of the cities and counties show an increase, there are many cases, particularly in Wales, where there has been a decrease.

Greater London's population has increased to 7,252,963 from 6,551,402 in 1901. This increase is entirely in what is known as the outer ring, showing that the people are moving from the crowded centers. In fact many of the old Metropolitan boroughs and the city of London proper have lost their population to the suburbs.

BOYD IS GUILTY

He Was Convicted of Manslaughter

NEWFARE, Vt., May 25.—After four hours' deliberation the jury in the case of Frank J. Boyd of Wilmington, charged with the murder of John Potter of that town, April 13, returned a verdict of manslaughter, which is punishable by imprisonment of from one to 20 years.

The case was given to the jury at 12:30 yesterday afternoon and the verdict was returned at 1:30.

Attorney-General J. G. Sargent moved for immediate sentence, but the court denied the motion. The attorney general spent two hours at the morning session in summing up for the state and contended that the prosecution had proven murder in the first degree. He claimed that Boyd could have escaped from Potter, and that the defense had not established its claim of self-defense.

Judge E. L. Waterman's charge to the jury was to the different degrees of murder.

MANY LIVES LOST

Because of the Lack of Adequate Fire Protection

NEW YORK, May 25.—Failure to appreciate the seriousness of mine fires and a lack of adequate fire protection have resulted in the loss of hundreds of lives and the destruction of millions of dollars worth of property in the last few years, according to a statement made at the annual meeting of the National Fire Protection Association this morning by Herbert M. Wilson, chief engineer of the Federal Bureau of Mines. Mr. Wilson went farther and declared that two of the most serious disasters in coal mines in the last two years, one at Cherry, Ill., in which 262 lives were lost and the other at the Hancock mine near Scranton, Pa., in which 74 lives were lost, originated from trivial causes and ought to have been quickly extinguished without the sacrifice of human life.

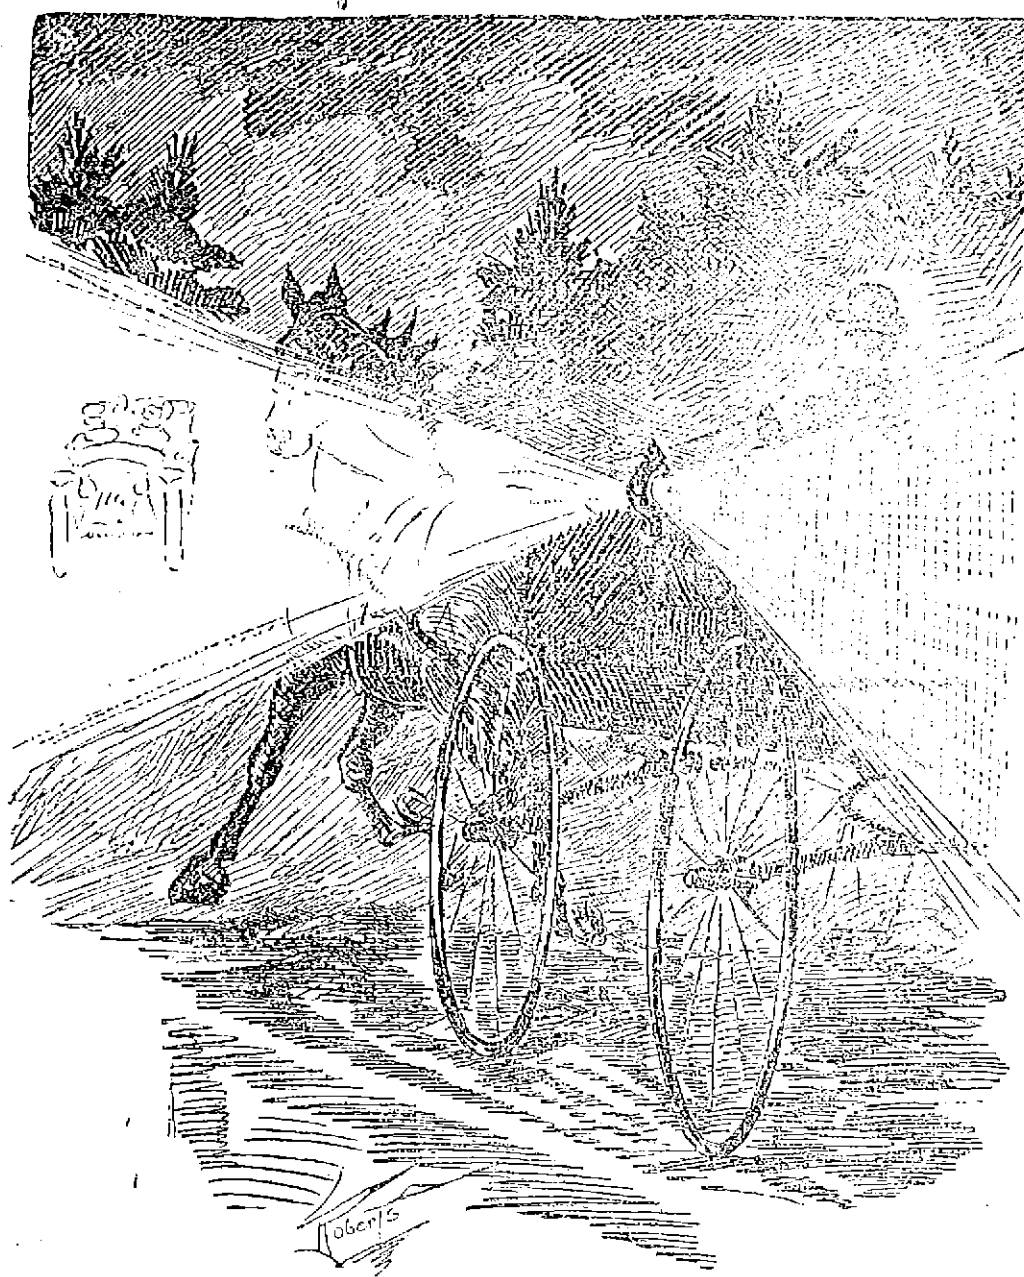

"The contact of several bales of hay with a blazing torch or an open miner's lamp," said Mr. Wilson, "caused the Cherry mine disaster with its great loss of life and a total cost of one million dollars, of which $50,000 a day was spent in direct fire fighting for several days."

"The fire in the Hancock mine killed 74 miners, left 45 widows and 137 dependent orphans. This fire is known to have started in an underground room presumably from some oil-soaked waste. The fire was not thought serious until it had been burning two hours. This delay was, in large measure, responsible for the great loss of life."

"Besides the loss of life, fires have cost much money. At Deadwood, S. D., $1,000,000 has been spent in fighting a fire in a metal mine. Today fires are raging in coal and metal mines in various parts of the country. Some of them have gotten beyond control, and have been burning for many years, devouring hundreds of thousands of tons of coal and miles of mine galleries. One mine fire near Carbondale, Pa., has burned out such a vast area of anthracite coal in the last ten years as to result in a subsidence of the surface and destruction of surface property. Near Summit Hill, Pa., a fire which has been burning 51 years is estimated to have destroyed $25,000,000 worth of coal. Near Jobs, Ohio, a tract of coal valued at several million dollars has been burning since 1854. In some of the deeper metal mines at Butte, Mont., fires have been burning in the old mine timbers since 1838. In the Comstock vein in Nevada, thousands of feet of tunnels which had been opened and timbered at great expense are being burned out.

"The mining engineers of the Bureau of Mines have made a careful study of fires in mines, and have reached the conclusion that the introduction of comparatively inexpensive fire-fighting appliances, the adoption of proper regulations and the institution of a reasonable system of fire drills may minimize fires and confine others to a brief period of time with little damage to life and property. The engineers of this bureau have had much success in combating mine fires through the use of the oxygen helmet. This is an apparatus that entirely protects the head, and through which air is furnished artificially, thus enabling the wearer to explore the vicinity of a fire under conditions of smoke and gas that would render his approach otherwise impossible. By the use of such an apparatus a number of fires have been promptly extinguished which would doubtless have spread and perhaps extended to the surface. Chemistry, through the quick analysis of gases at frequent intervals in the neighborhood of the fire has proven a most useful adjunct in fighting fires. It seems almost unnecessary to call attention to the necessity of providing at each mine ample storage of water properly conveyed in protected pipes to possible danger points, the desirability of using larger amounts of fire-proof material in place of wooden mine timbering or wooden doors, the proper disposal of waste, fire-proof man-ways and air shafts and the use of fire-proof material as far as possible in all surface structures within 50 to 100 feet of the main opening to the mine."

LITTLE CANADA

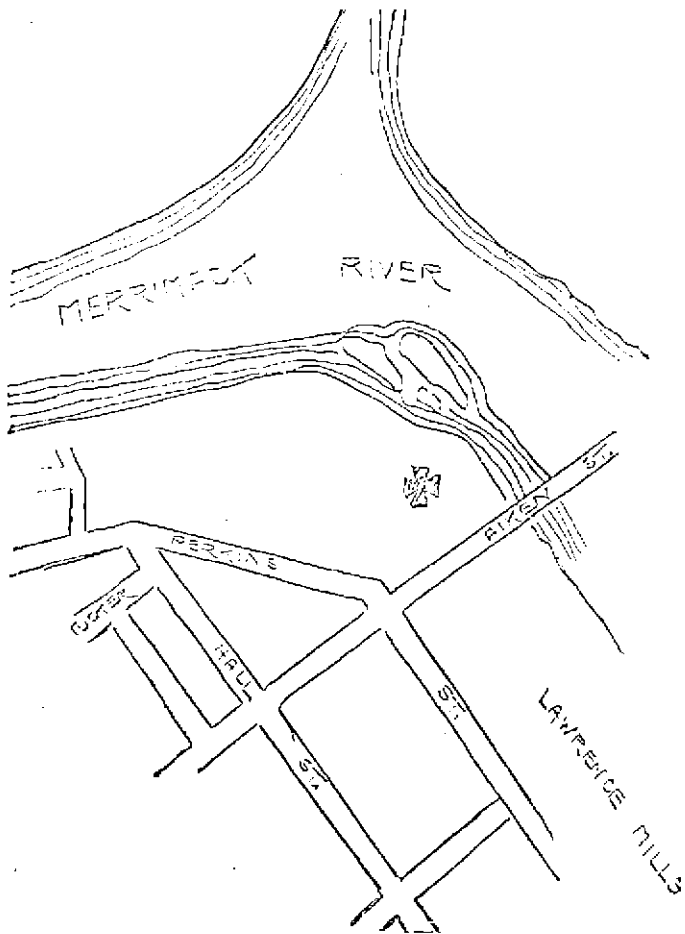

DIAGRAM WITH STAR SHOWING THE LOCATION OF PROPOSED PARK.

Land for Proposed Park Was Inspected Yesterday

The committee appointed by the city council to consider the advisability of locating a park and playground in Little Canada viewed the land of the Locks and Canals corporation, on Allen street, yesterday afternoon. The committee comprises Aldermen Toupin and Rountree and Councilmen Achin, Crowley and Chadwick. A portion of the site is now occupied as a play-area is assessed for over $25,000. In the course of the afternoon Albert S. Howard appeared, explaining that he represented the Nesmith heirs and that they desired to sell to the city for park purposes, land on the opposite side of the river, with an entrance at Island street. In the tract are 182,167 square feet, and the price asked is $44,175. Messrs. Rountree and Crowley favored this site, but it was explained that the committee was named to consider a playground and park in Little Canada and not in Centralville. A meeting was held on the park ground and it was voted to request an interview with H. O. Mills, engineer of the Locks and Canals corporation, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

AN UNUSUAL CASE

Contest Over the Haviland Property

BOSTON, May 25.—A very unusual situation arising from the relations of Mary Haviland and her cousin, Henry Haviland, came to light yesterday through a controversy between the heirs of each for a share of property left to her under the will of her father, Thomas Haviland, who died in 1873. Proceedings in supreme court, were brought by Moses Williams et al, trustees under the will of Thomas Haviland, against Mary H. Brocklesby of Newton for a construction of the will. Judge Morton gave the hearing. The testator left part of his property in trust for his daughter and on her death the income was to go to her issue if any, and if not, to her heirs. She died Nov. 2, 1886, and since then the trustees have been paying the income to her nephews and nieces on the theory that she had no husband at the time of her death. She was described as a widow in the accounts of the executors and trustees and signed the same. Henry Haviland, to whom it is now claimed she was married in 1874, died in 1899, so was alive at the time of her death. If she was married to him he became a statutory heir and was entitled to share of her estate. It is claimed by his heirs that the couple married but separated about six years later and Henry went to New York, where he lived with another woman as his wife. The nephews and nieces of Mary Haviland who have been receiving the income are Mary Brocklesby of Newton, Helen R. Levesque of Chicago, Kate O. Haviland and Mary H. Dunn of Germantown, Penn., Arthur Haviland and Fletcher W. Haviland of Atlantic City. The heirs of Henry Haviland, who claim a share of the property, are Adelaide Haviland Bell of Flushing, L. I., Mary Schlichter and Charles F. Haviland of New York, George W. R. Holt, John and Paul S. Robinson of Hartford, Conn., Zenas E. Nye and Marguerite Haviland Nye of St. Louis, Henry Haviland Wright of Rockford, Ill., and Frank S. Wright of Kansas City, Mo.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

Another large audience attended the illustrated lecture on the principles of Laundries given by the Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. ## O'REILLY GUILTY KING

Lawyer Remanded for Sentence Later

NEW YORK, May 25.—Daniel J. O'Reilly, former assistant district attorney and well known as a criminal lawyer, particularly in the cases of Harry K. Thaw and Nan Patterson, was found guilty of receiving stolen goods by a jury in the criminal branch of the supreme court yesterday. The jury reached a verdict in an hour and a quarter. O'Reilly was remanded for sentence. O'Reilly was charged with having received for Frank L. Pluss the return of $27,000 worth of securities stolen on March 2 from Aaron Bancroft, an elderly broker. A reward of $2,000 was paid for the return of the securities and the district attorney's office introduced evidence to show that O'Reilly received $250 as his share of the reward. This he denied, maintaining that he was acting as Bancroft's lawyer and in the interests of justice. The maximum penalty for the offense is five years' imprisonment and $250 fine.

MOCK TRIAL

WAS HELD AT THE HIGHLAND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The strawberry festival and mock trial held in the vestry of the Highland Congregational church last night was one of the most successful affairs ever held in that edifice. While strawberries were served in "57 varieties" at the supper there were many more substantial edibles on the menu. At the conclusion of the supper the mock trial was held and when it came to presenting the case the "dead lights" which appeared in the case on trial presented more novel law points and arguments than ever entered into a genuine trial. The cast of characters in the trial was as follows: Judge ..... Walter Hadley Prosecuting Attorney, Mr. Irving Kimball Counsel for the defense, Winthrop Beane Sheriff, Kenneth Gardner Prisoner, Rodman Clough Clerk, Christopher Hartford Plaintiff, Lauriston Kasebolt Foreman of the jury, Lester Holman Jury, witnesses, spectators. The Ladies' Charitable association had general charge of the supper with the following ladies acting as the committee: Mrs. J. R. Field, chairman; Mrs. C. L. Evans, Mrs. C. M. Forrest, Miss Flora Fox, Mrs. J. E. Cheney, Mrs. C. L. Willett, Mrs. Brad, Mrs. W. E. Sargent, Mrs. Clarence H. Hoyt, Mrs. F. A. Spence, Mrs. James Webster, Miss Blanche Green, Mrs. Minnie Colburn and Miss David. Mr. Irving Kimball had charge of the entertainment.

GEORGE V. UNVEILING THE VICTORIA

MEMORIAL AT ST. JAMES' SQUARE, LONDON

LONDON, May 25.—The unveiling of the memorial monument in honor of Queen Victoria proved one of the most interesting events of recent years in London. King George, Queen Mary, the daughter Queen Alexandra and other members of the royal family were leading participants in the ceremony. Emperor Wilhelm of Germany, the empress and their daughter, Victoria Louise, visited London especially to be present at the unveiling of the memorial. The monument, which is in St. James' square, across from Buckingham palace. The photo here shown is the first one received in this country depicting the unveiling of the monument. King George is shown at the lower right hand corner pressing a button connected with an electrical apparatus that released the curtains inclosing the memorial. The arrow indicates the king.

ONE BOY MAY DIE

Two Were Run Down by an Automobile in Everett

EVERETT, May 25.—In spite of the 3-year-old son of Congressman Charles Jones, just put a dash of Carbonol on the roof of the house and exposed to the pall of water when you every cranny to sunlight.

CLEANING FLOORS OF WOOD WORK WITH CARBONOL

For cleaning floors or wood-work with Carbonol makes them as clean and bright as if you had taken the roof off the house and exposed to the pall of water when you every cranny to sunlight. Carbonol will remove stains, brighten dingy rugs, dissolve grease in clogged waste pipes, clean the sink and purify the room. These are just hints of the possibilities of a combined disinfectant and grease solvent.

last night by an auto driven by George E. Hodson of Swampscott.

Frank Eisel, 8 years old, of 236 Main street was the hero. He saw the quickly approaching auto before his companion and tried to pull him out of the way. Both were struck, but the Dillaway boy received the more severe blow, while Frank was hit a glancing blow and threw upon the car tracks in front of an approaching car. Even then he had the presence of mind to grasp the feet of the Dillaway boy in an effort to pull him out of the way, but a front wheel of the auto passed over the Dillaway boy's head.

Charles sustained a bad fracture of the skull, but Frank suffered no more than a few severe bruises on his side. Fortunately the approaching car was far enough away to enable the motorist to stop in time to prevent a second horrible accident.

Charles Dillaway lived with his parents at 11 Everett street. When he arrived home from school yesterday afternoon he started in an errand for his grandmother to a store near Baldwin avenue. He found the store closed and while waiting for the proprietor to return he met the Eisel boy, with whom he played on the sidewalk. As they were about to cross Main street they saw a horse and wagon and an electric car approaching from Malden. The car was some distance away and they waited until the wagon had passed before attempting to cross.

An automobile was behind the wagon which they did not see until they had started across. Frank saw it first and grabbing his playmate by the arm tried to pull him along, but the auto was too close for them to get out of the way.

BROTHERS MEET

AFTER AN ABSENCE OF ELEVEN YEARS

A partial family reunion in which a wife and four sons of her sons occurred a few days ago at the home of Mrs. Edward Lamb in Rock street when her sister, Mrs. McDonald, who is quite ill, met for the first time in 11 years her two sons, Edward and Thomas. Eleven years ago Mrs. McDonald was taken ill and was sent to the hospital. Her husband, becoming discouraged, disappeared, leaving a family of six boys, one of whom was since died. Of the five remaining, two stayed with the mother, while Thomas, Edward and Maurice went away and all track of them was lost. Mrs. McDonald upon taking ill, came to the home of her sister, Mrs. Lamb, in this city and the latter in an effort to locate the boys, inserted an ad. in the Boston papers. It was answered by Thomas, who immediately came here. He then located Edward in western Massachusetts. Thomas has been employed in Vermont, both are now trying to locate Maurice.

KILLED HER BABES

Insane Mother Battered Their Heads With an Ax

One Child Is Dead and the Other Little Ones Are in Hospital and Have No Chance for Recovery—Mother's Mind Unbalanced by Death of Her Child

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 23.—During an insane frenzy last night Mrs. Beatrice Potter, 28, wife of James S. Potter, beat the heads of her three children, ranging in age from 14 months to 2 years, with an ax as they lay in bed. The five-year-old child died today. The hospital authorities say the others cannot recover.

After attacking the children Mrs. Potter ran to the front window and shouted to the neighbors, saying, "Come see what I have done to my babies!"

The women who heard her shrieks went into the house and were led by the frantic woman to the bed where two of the children lay moaning.

The woman's husband had left the house but a few minutes before the tragedy. When he left the two oldest children, Edgar L. 5 years, and Gladys, 3, were asleep in one room and the 14-month-old baby, Lillian, was in a crib in another. The mother secured the ax from the shed and attacked the children. All of them sustained fractured skulls.

Mrs. Potter apparently had no realization of what she had done, for as neighbors began to gather she gazed over the horror. Two physicians were summoned and after ordering the children removed to the hospital, made an examination of the mother. They pronounced her insane and she was turned over to the authorities. The husband is prostrated.

Mrs. Potter lost her fourth child at birth about three weeks ago and since that time, according to her friends, had not been quite herself. Her condition was not such as to cause alarm, however.

The husband and father is employed in a local factory and had made his home at 57 Wesleyan avenue, where the tragedy took place, for some time.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Roslin Fish Killed by a Steam Roller at Melrose

MELROSE, May 23.—Roslin Fish, aged 51 years, of 21 Waverly place, this city, was instantly killed on Main street in the square about 7 last evening by being run over by a steam roller belonging to the city. He was employed as bagman in front of the machine.

This was the first day he had worked flagging the roller and he was nearly exhausted at the time of the accident because of having walked many miles through the streets.

When the machine was going through the square to be stored in the public works building for the night, Fish walked slowly in front of the machine and was so close to the front roller that pedestrians warned him to increase his pace as he was in danger of being struck.

His feet were hit several times by the roller and finally his foot was caught under it and he was thrown to the ground on his face. The machine crawled along and had crushed his right side and legs to the thigh before the engineer, Charles W. Marston of Bealton, could put on the reverse power.

Fish was picked up by witnesses to the accident and carried to the steps of a building across the street, but he was dead when placed on a temporary stretcher. The body was viewed by Medical Examiner Roscoe D. Perley and removed to an undertaking establishment.

Fish was married and had resided in this city several years. He is also survived by a brother and sister. For three years he had been employed by the street department, but three weeks ago was laid off because of advanced years.

He was again hired this week by the public works department, and yesterday began work as bagman for the steam roller, which was being used on Lebanon street, his duty being to carry a red flag in front of the machine and warn pedestrians and teamsters of the approaching roller.

Fish was well known as an artist's model, and for many years had posed in the role of a fisherman and as other characters for artists in Boston. His likeness on calendars and blotters by an ink company has made his face well known to many people. When he could not secure employment posing for artists he worked for the city.

Marston was taken to the police station, but after Chief of Police Kerr conferred with Medical Examiner Perley he was allowed to go without bail, but he will probably appear in the district court.

Kerr said it was apparent that Mr. Fish had a shock before he fell in front of the steam roller, and the court will determine whether any charge should be brought against Mr. Marston.

OF COURSE BABY CRIES

Just think how painful it is to have the skin chafed, and constantly irritated by acid perspiration, then you can see why many babies cry so pitiously. Trained nurses say this would never happen if Comfort Powder was used in the baby's toilet. Mrs. Florence Seyant, Portland, Me., says "Other powders did no good to my baby who was badly scalded and chafed, but since using Comfort Powder he is always in perfect condition." Comfort Powder soothes and heals. The Sun bears the signature of E. S. Sykes.

Three representative summer styles are here shown. The little lace cap is very much the vogue and worn not only for theatre in its more elaborate form, but also for breakfast. It certainly is a blessing for holding in the hair of a warm morning, when one's hair is apt to be disarranged or it is too hot to add the customary puffs and rats.

The elaborate bathing suit is the latest "cry" in such garments. It is made of silk in the new Helen pink shade.

As for the walking dress of white serge, it shows just the right degree of skiminess and the high waisted, carefree appearance so much the fashion just now.

GREAT SILK SALE A DRESSY SUIT

At A. G. Pollard Co.'s Blue Mohair Trimmed With Braid

Every day in the year brings some kind of a sensation to our city. Yesterday it was Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, and today A. G. Pollard's mammoth establishment is the center of attraction. Ladies within a radius of twenty-five miles of Lowell have been patiently waiting for the announcement of this great annual silk sale, where buyers of the finest silks in color, design and quality from the greatest silk mill in the country will be offered for sale at about one-fourth of the value. These silks sell everywhere at from $1.00 to $1.25 per yard. At this sale thirty-nine cents a yard is the anniversary price, and what a man attended the sale. Long before the great department store was open, Pollard's side and entrance were filled with eager purchasers and in less than five minutes after the doors were opened many hundreds crowded and pushed to get inside so as to have first choice of the bargains. Automobiles from sections as far off as Woburn, Nashua, and Lawrence brought ladies eager to get their portion of these wonderful bargains.

Policemen were brought into action to keep back the crowd and to help in assisting to regulate matters so that the clerks might be able to attend to the wants of the customers.

For several years past the A. G. Pollard Company has taken the remnants exclusively of a large silk mill, and the popularity of the silks has been so great that the mill has correspondingly increased in its capacity of manufacturing, and thus cut hundreds of thousands of yards of silk and velvet every year.

It is not known here, but it is a fact, that the A. G. Pollard Co. is the distributing agent both wholesale and retail of these goods and a number of Boston houses get their goods through the A. G. Pollard Co.

The orders received came from places as far off as California. That seems improbable, but it is positively so, and the reputation of the Pollard Company is consequently not confined to this state.

It is surprising how these beautiful fabrics can be sold at such a low figure. Pollards were never any more popular than they are now and will be for this season, so that this season's sale is even greater than any of the sales of previous years. The people remember the bargains and wait for the day, while new patrons are always coming in.

Of course silks are the great magnet that draws at this mammoth establishment today, but there are other wonderful bargains as well, judging from the way the people after purchasing silks find it to their advantage to visit other departments.

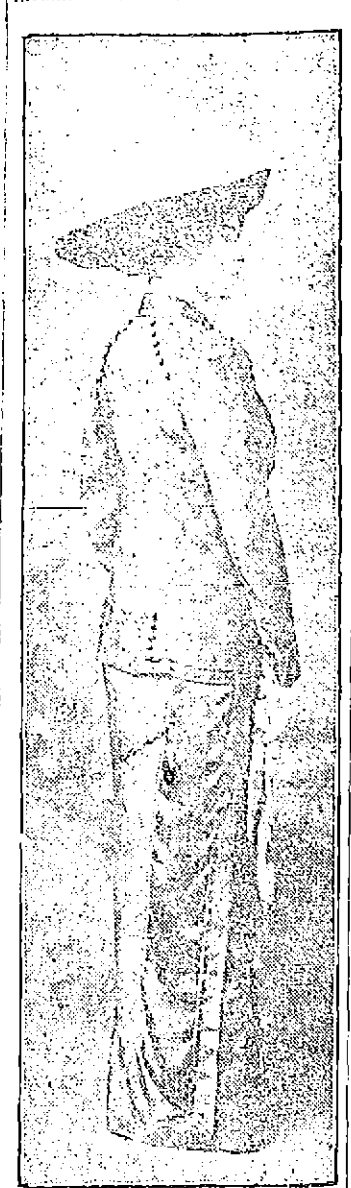

If you have never attended one of these silk sales you certainly have missed one of the greatest store attractions offered to the female portion of our community. The sale will continue until these goods are sold. It may be tomorrow, but if the rush continues the best bargains may be gone today. It is a case of rush, and first come first served till the last remnant is disposed of.

OFFICE BUILDING

To be Hired Entirely by Women

An office building filled entirely with women is the latest scheme of the up-to-date feminine worker. Two years ago in Albany, N. Y., the woman's business bureau was incorporated. The president of this organization, herself a business woman of the most successful type, has interested several rich women in her plans. The bureau will supply the following workers: Accountants, artists, amanuenses, bookkeepers, cashiers, canvassers, clerks, collectors, decorators, designers, demonstrators, dressmakers, hatdressers, housekeepers, inviolable attendants, kindergarten, mothers' helpers, manicurists, matrons, masseuses, musicians, visiting milliners, multi-graphers, nursery governesses, proof-readers, packers, retouchers of photographs, resident and visiting teachers, saleswomen, settlement workers, stenographers, typists, trained nurses, teachers of languages, music, fine and industrial arts.

The organizer of this scheme says she could fill a building as large as the Madison Square Garden with women experts along the different lines.

There will be offices for women doctors, lawyers, insurance agents, real estate dealers, interior decorators and amusement agencies. There will also be studios for photographers, artists and musicians.

Women advertising agents will see to the advertising, buy space, write ads, and do house to house calling. There will even be new departments like that of house hunting, which will save many weary steps.

A model employment agency will also be there where when a woman goes a clerk she may sample a specimen of her cooking.

Miss Maude E. Miner of the New York Probation association, has done such good for wayward girls in her home at 16 West Tenth street that she is taking larger quarters, also on Tenth street. Several rich men interested in her work have contributed to the fast time made in this event this year.

estimated in her work have contributed to the fast time made in this event this year.

The girls who come here are nothing but children," says Miss Miner. "Young girls of 17 or 18, many of them are who get into trouble because their homes are so cheerless and they have to work so hard, and they go to a moving picture show, or a dance hall in search of a little amusement, and the men who make their living from vice and who haunt these places in search of just such victims get hold of them. These are the girls who work in shops and factories for $3, $4 or $5 a week—laid off during the dull season at that. And as one young girl who was arrested on the street and referred here by the court said to me: 'You can't live on $5 a week. I didn't have enough money even to buy shoes, and I had to go ragged.' I am disgusted with the whole thing."

Miss Miner also has a fund to send country girls back to their homes.

ATHLETIC MEET

Under Auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

One of the principal local sporting events of the year will be the annual athletic meet held under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association on the south common on Memorial Day.

Thirty cups have been offered as prizes for the winners and runners-up on the different events and this, the sixth year, will in all probability result in the greatest entry list in the history of the meet.

In addition, each prize winner will be the guest of some prominent business man at the annual Y. M. C. A. banquet on June 1. The speaker of the evening at the banquet will be H. H. C. W. Frothingham, Dr. George W. Thayer of the state Y. M. C. A. will also speak. The interest in the meet is keen throughout the city, and most of the local amateur athletes are looking forward to it with great eagerness, and the sport loving enthusiasts are sure to see some good sport. The events are all scratch this year, which really makes it a city championship meet. Authorities on athletics are looking forward to the establishing of some new amateur records for Lowell this year, with Mullen of the C. Y. M. L. in the broad and high jumps, pitted against Croft and Andreanovich of the Y. M. C. A. There is some talk of Atkinson coming back into the running game, with Atkinson, Lane and Kough in the mile run, there ought to Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reedy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 2, 1911. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

The Wild West Show is a great deal tamer than it used to be. It has no new features and the old are not as good as formerly.

Senator Hibbard and Rep. Marchand have done well to secure a session of the naturalization court for Lowell. There may be two sessions instead of one as two are necessary. There are hundreds of men in Lowell who have been deterred from getting naturalized by the difficulty of taking witnesses to Boston.

THE PRESIDENT DECIDES ARIGHT

President Taft has decided wisely in refusing to pardon Charles W. Morse and John R. Walsh, two of the most prominent bankers ever sent to the federal penitentiary for violation of the national banking laws, or in other words, for bank looting or grand larceny. If they were poor men who had stolen less than the thousandth part of their fiefdoms there would be no appeal for executive clemency. It is time the wealthy men of this country were made to feel that the jails and penitentiaries are provided for them as well as for the poor. The president's decision in this case will have some effect in that direction.

FOR THE ARBITRATION BOARD

Mr. L. F. McNamara of Haverhill has strong backing as a candidate for the state board of arbitration and conciliation. Mr. McNamara has had a business experience that should qualify him in an eminent degree for the duties of the position. He has been a cigar manufacturer in his father's shop until he became an expert mechanical engineer. Afterwards he entered the shoe business, finally becoming a manufacturer. He has served in the board of aldermen and school board in Haverhill besides representing the democratic party at various national conventions. Possessed of a judicial mind he is a man who is well informed upon the relations between employer and employee, and should, therefore, make a valuable member of any such board as that for which he has announced himself a candidate.

A LAW DEMANDED BY PUBLIC SAFETY

Senator Hibbard has had substituted for the adverse report, the bill providing that all carriages driving on the public highways at night shall be obliged to carry lights by which they may be discernible by the drivers of autos and other vehicles. The extreme need of such a law for the public safety is so obvious that those who value their safety or their lives will scarcely venture upon any public highway at night without a white head light and rear red light. One lamp would suffice for a buggy or other carriage of that kind if sufficiently elevated to be seen either in front or rear at a safe distance provided it shows white in front and red behind.

There are so many accidents due to the lack of lights on horse drawn vehicles at night, that something must be done to protect not only those who go out without a light but the autoists who are liable to run into them. Only last Sunday night we had a bad accident on the boulevard, due entirely to the fact that the carriage struck by the auto did not carry a light of any kind. It is to be hoped that the legislature will enact the bill first introduced by Rep. Marchand, but unwisely rejected by the committee. It is a public necessity and failure to place it on the statute books will result in numerous accidents and loss of life, while those who drive on the public highways will always feel a sense of insecurity so long as they are liable at any moment to crash into some carriage suddenly emerging from the darkness.

The automobile is now so ubiquitous that the other vehicles must abandon the roads at night unless they carry lights. As well permit dangerous obstructions to be placed upon the highways with impunity or unconcern as to allow any kind of vehicle to use a public highway at night without a light.

THE ALDERMEN SHOULD DECIDE

The board of aldermen having taken up the contagious hospital matter should look into the question very thoroughly so as to see which of the sites considered will best serve the interests of the city, present and future. There is no scarcity of land to warrant crowding buildings together, or too close to the public highways, and as we are a growing city, the hospital that would serve our purposes today would be too small ten years hence. The matter of sewerage should not enter into the consideration, as with the growth of the city the sewers will have to be extended far beyond the Chelmsford Street hospital, whether we have a new hospital or not.

Any new sewer extended on the city farm land can be utilized in the future for a tuberculosis hospital or other buildings. The contagious hospital commission seems to be making the mistake of supposing that our city will remain stationary as to population and development. In twenty-five years hence Lowell will be a city of about 150,000 population. For this reason, it might be expected that every municipal building erected would be so constructed as to permit of enlargement. There is a tendency to hamper all our public buildings, to crowd them on a limited area, to have our streets too narrow and our public breathing places too small. Let us get away from this idea of crowding. Let us take room enough to live and enjoy life without crowding our buildings so close that they will interfere with one another. When we go into the country towns and look at the beauty of the spacious streets and the grandeur of the trees, may we not ask why can we not have some of this amplitude of street space in our city? Why permit congestion on narrow streets while there is such a plenitude of suitable land available?

If we are to have a hospital it should have ample grounds well planted with shade trees. Is there any provision or any thought of such a feature in connection with the proposed contagious hospital? That is for the aldermen to find out and for them also to determine whether any new building is to be crowded on a small space or given ample room to grow on a large area that will also permit of scenic and arboreal beautification.

SEEN AND HEARD

William Travers Jerome, New York's assistant attorney general, said at a dinner at the Union club: "There is no good thing but it has its opponents. There's a man writing to the papers now against compulsory education and against child labor laws. This man, of course, is ignorant. Ignorance is the basis of all the trouble that exists in the world, and that opponent of child labor laws and compulsory education is, without knowing it, just as ignorant as the wearers who led his gawky, overgrown son into the country schoolhouse and said: 'This boy's after learning. What's he full of?'"

The other gentleman said, replied the speaker, "I'm a geographer, physicist, astronomer, algebra, trigonometry."

The first gentleman interrupted the farmer: "That's all right, but you're heavy with trigonometry. It's the only poor shot in the family."

AUNT TABITHA Whatever I do and whatever I say, Aunt Tabitha tells me that isn't the way. When she was a girl forty summers ago, Aunt Tabitha tells me they never did so.

Dear aunt if I only would take her advice. But I like my own way, and I find it so nice. And besides I forget half the things I am told. But they will come back to me when I am old.

If a youth passes by, it may happen, no doubt. He may chance to look in as I chance to look out. She would never endure an impertinent stare. It is horrid, she says, and I mustn't sit there.

A walk in the moonlight has pleasure, I own. But it isn't quite safe to be walking alone. So I take a lad's arm just for safety, you know. But Aunt Tabitha tells me, they didn't do so.

How wicked we are, and how good they were then. They kept of arm's length those detestable men. What an era of virtue she lived in—but stay—Were the men such rogues in Aunt Tabitha's day?

If the men were so wicked—I'll ask my papa. How he dared to propose to my darling mama? Was he like the rest of them? Goodness! Who knows? And what shall I say, if a wretch should propose?

I am thinking, if aunt knew so little of us. What a wonder Aunt Tabitha's aunt must have been! And her grandaunt—it scares me—how cheekily and that we girls of today are so frightfully bad! A martyr will save us, and nothing else can. Let us perish to rescue some wretched young man!

Thought when to the altar a victim I go. Aunt Tabitha'll tell me she never did so. —Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Little Daisy had a pet cat to which she was so devoted that her anxious mother feared her affection was excessive, and undertook to lessen it. "My dear," she said, "you love your pussy too much. What would you do if she were to die, for you would never see her again?"

"Oh yes, mamma," replied the little one, confidently. "I would see my pussy again when I went to heaven." "No, Daisy," said the mother, "and—" made have no doubts, and when they die that is the end of them. They cannot go to heaven like people." This attack on her childish theology was a much for Daisy. Her eyes filled with tears, but suddenly the Bible was brought out, and she exclaimed triumphantly: "Animals do go to heaven, for the Bible says the promise was made to Noah with milk and honey, and if there are no animals in heaven where do they get the milk?" —Baltimore American

A common old traveler had been in his hardest, his most eloquent, his most persuasive for nearly an hour to a country of Yorkshire hotel. The old fellow seemed to have found his mark, and the traveler, though a bit of a fish, landed.

But the Yorkshireman said: "There's no use in your talking. Will you come this afternoon and see over your talk?"

"Certainly sir with pleasure!" replied the traveler, heartily, and at the hour appointed presented himself for the interview with father and son. Again he went over the points of the article he had to sell—forcibly, eloquently, persuasively. Never had he acquitted himself of a finer "selling talk."

When he had finished the old Yorkshireman turned to his son and said, enthusiastically: "Do ye hear that, Jack? Well, now, that's the way I want ye to sell our goods on the road!" —Tit-Bits.

IN THE CHURCHES The Paige Street Baptist Woman's Missionary society met Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage in Methuen street, with Mrs. B. R. Harris as hostess and Mrs. D. P. Knowlton arranged the program. The subject was "Problems and Politics," and it proved interesting and helpful to the large number present who are interested in the study of "Western Woman in Eastern Lands." Miss Viola Marshall played a piano solo and Misses Florence

Knowlton and Viola Marshall sang a duet, which was appreciated. The hostess served a delicious luncheon.

Kirk Street Church The Ladies' of the Kirk Street Congregational church held a strawberry festival last night at which about 200 people were present. After supper there was a pleasing entertainment, consisting of reading by Miss Leah DeMott, of the Lowell High school, and selections by a mandolin club, also from the Lowell High school. Both of these were strong numbers and made a decided hit with the audience.

The decorations were unusually good and were largely commented upon. The prevailing colors were green and white. The candy, cake and lemonade tables were well patronized. The committee in charge of the affair was Mrs. Howard W. Foster, chairman, and Mrs. J. E. Simpson.

FIRE NEAR PRISON

Convicts at Thomaston, Maine, Were Given a Scare

THOMASTON, Me., May 25.—A fire close to the prison wall. Only the warden and a few convicts were given a recent heavy rain prevented a general scare early today by a fire less than of the fire. The fire started in the yard 100 yards away which totally destroyed the unexplained manner in the kitchen, burned George's hotel and then the inmates, of whom there were 100, sacked the stables. Warden E. B. Wier, 32, did not discover it until the fire gun rendered the services of the prison was well under way but all succeeded on steamer to aid the town fire department though scantily clad. The perturbation and the damage was considerable was one of the landmarks of the fire to the hotel property which is town, having been built nearly 100 years ago by Captain Lucius Kenna of years ago. The property was valued at Rockland. A shower of sparks fell $10,000, partially insured.

POLICE ON DUTY

To Cope With Any Further Outbreak in Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, May 25.—After the intense excitement of last night the city is in comparative quiet this morning. An official statement of the disturbances resulting in the bloody rioting that overtook the city yesterday evening places the dead at seven and the wounded at 36. Several of the wounded are expected to die. Large forces of police were on duty early today, ready to cope with any renewal of the outbreak but there were no signs of renewed disorder during the early hours.

By order Minister De la Barra issued an official statement this morning that President Diaz and Vice-President Carral would resign this afternoon and that the provisional government would thereupon assume authority.

Many broken windows testified today to the work of the mob last night. One of the plate-glass fronts shattered were those of the W. G. Walsh shop. The Aztec Land curio shop and the Tampico News Co. all Americans. Reports received today from outlying quarters show that five persons were killed at Guadalajara Tuesday night. Gov. Gallardo of the state of Jalisco, of which Guadalajara is the capital, has resigned and has been succeeded by David Gutierrez Altamirano. A mob demonstration occurred at Guadalajara last night with cries for vengeance for the five persons killed on Tuesday. The outbreak was quelled when Gov. Gallardo resigned. The danger at that point is not considered over. Throughout last night there were echoes of the bloody struggle which occurred here earlier in the evening when the mob had held sway at many points, storming buildings and menacing the presidential palace until swept back by volleys from the government forces. Last night's rioting covered a wide area and at times four different demonstrations were in progress, all apparently having a common object.

The main trouble culminated after dark last night when a mob spread through the city that President Diaz and Vice-President Carral had not resigned in accordance with public expectation. Late in the day the chamber of deputies was the first scene of clamorous manifestation and this soon spread to the neighboring quarters. Toward nine o'clock the rioting was at its height. Shots for Madere were heard everywhere, and processions moved through the leading streets bearing large portraits of the revolutionary leader. Efforts to check the fury of the outbreak were made by Madere's personal representative, Alvaro Obregon. But the disorder continued, finding its chief center in front of the presidential palace. Arming themselves with rocks the mob bombarded nearby buildings, including the newspaper offices of El Imparcial and the Tampico News Co.

Large forces of troops were hurried to the scene of disturbance and a cordon was thrown about the presidential palace. Traffic orders to disperse were given to the manifestants but without avail. Then upon the soldiers opened fire. Immediately there was a scene of wild confusion. The more timid rioters fled to nearby streets and alleys while the leaders gave ground slowly before the advancing soldiers, who still kept up their fire. Slowly, however, the mob was broken up, forming detached bodies which continued their demonstrations at various points throughout the city. The estimate of dead last night was from seven to ten but today's official report gives the casualties as seven dead and 36 wounded.

SPRING'S BAD THROW

Lost Game for Lowell in the Ninth Inning

Owing to the miserable weather and the counter-attraction of the circus there was the smallest attendance of the season at Spalding park yesterday when Lowell and Brockton met. Ordinarily it would be expected that the attendance would be the largest of the season owing to the fact that Lowell and Brockton were tied for first place in the standing. At 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning Gray declared the game off and Cooney, short stop, who was at his home in Boston was notified, but later when the sun poked its rays from behind the clouds, it was decided to play the game but Cooney could not be reached, therefore Lowell presented a short stop in Cooney's place and Warwick was sent into right field. Lavinie Walsh made his first appearance in this city and called the game at 3 o'clock.

First Inning
The visitors started the scoring right off the reel and sent one man over the plate in the first half of the inning. Hendricksen swung the willow with great might but he fanned the gentle zephyrs every time and was retired on strikes. Connaughton slammed the ball but the spurs went skyward and dropped into Moulton's glove and there were two out. Stankard, the heavy hitter of the team, sent the ball over Darrows' head and out to the centre field fence for three bases and a minute later Boardman scored him with a single to right field. Smith hit in front of the plate and failed to reach first.

Every member of the team went to bat in the latter half of the first inning and four runs were scored. Weafer, the pitcher, who defeated Lowell the last time that the teams met in this city got his bumps in the first inning being hammered for five hits with a total of six. Moulton drew a free pass and Barrows went out on a fly to Smith. Warwick hit the ball to Loneragan who threw to first but Warwick traveled faster than the ball and was safe. Magee hit over second base. Connaughton knocked the ball down but he sent it in the wrong direction and before he could recover it the runner was safe and the bases were filled. Fluharty hit by Stankard into right field, scoring Moulton and Warwick. Magee going to third. A wild pitch resulted in Magee scoring and Fluharty going to third. Wright sent the ball over second and Fluharty scored. Barrows foul tip to Lavinie and Wright followed with a single. Weafer hit to Weafer and failed to reach first.

Second Inning
In the second inning McLane struck out and Loneragan hit to Fluharty, but the latter threw ball to first and the runner was safe. Lavinie foul tip to Stankard and Weafer hit to Fluharty forcing Loneragan at second.

In the latter half of the second inning Moulton hit to Loneragan and did not reach first. Barrows hit the ball for a single but Warwick struck out and Magee hit to Connaughton and was out at first.

Third Inning
Stankard and Boardman started the fireworks in the third inning and as a result of their heavy hitting two runs were scored. Hendricksen foul tip to Moulton and Connaughton was sent out, being retired on strikes. Stankard sent the ball to right center field fence for three bases and Boardman hit it out to left field fence and Stankard scored. Smith scored Boardman with a single, the ball being hit not for Weafer to handle, though the latter made a good attempt to bring it down. Smith then stole second.

Fourth Inning
Neither side scored in the fourth inning. Lavinie opened with a fly to Magee and Weafer hit to Wolfgang and was retired at first. Hendricksen singled and stole second. Connaughton struck out for the second time.

In the latter half of the inning Moulton hit to Smith. Barrows hit to Stankard and was out at first and Warwick hit to Weafer and was thrown out at first.

Fifth Inning
Brockton tied the score in the fifth inning. Stankard who made two three-baggers, appeared for the third time and rapped out a single to left field. He went to second on Boardman's sacrifice. Smith hit to Warwick and Stankard sent in third. McLane singled over second base scoring Stankard. Loneragan hit to Boules and never reached first.

Lowell scored another run in the latter half of the inning. Magee opened with a three bagger to the left field fence and Fluharty followed by hitting to Loneragan and being retired at first. Magee and Wright then executed a rather novel squeeze play. Magee, who was on third, started for home and Weafer pitched the ball wide so that Wright, who was at bat, could not strike it, but before Lavinie could recover the sphere Magee crossed the plate. Wright then singled to right field. Boules knocked out a two-bagger, but Loneragan hit to Loneragan and Wolfgang hit to Loneragan and was out at first.

Sixth Inning
Lavinie and Weafer sent grounders to Moulton and were retired at first. Hendricksen knocked out a grounder, but beat the ball to first. Connaughton hit to Boules.

Another run for Lowell in the latter half. Moulton hit to Loneragan and was out at first. Barrows singled to right center field. Warwick hit over McLane's head for a three-bagger. Barrows, Magee hit to Connaughton and died at first. Fluharty hit to Boardman and failed to reach first.

Seventh Inning
The visitors went out in one, two, three order in the seventh inning. Stankard hit to Barrows and Boardman and Smith sent grounders to Moulton and were retired at first.

Another run for Lowell in the latter half. Wright opened with a strikeout and Boules hit to Weafer and was out at first. Huston singled and Wolfgang walked to first base after being hit by a pitched ball. Barrows singled to center field scoring Huston. Barrows was third out, being retired on strikes.

Eighth Inning
In the eighth inning McLane struck out, Loneragan hit a red hot grounder to Moulton who stopped it and threw him out. Lavinie got a single by third. Weafer hit to right field for two bases scoring Lavinie. Hendricksen hit to Fluharty and Wright at first base dropped the ball allowing Weafer to score. Connaughton struck out. On the third strike Huston split his finger.

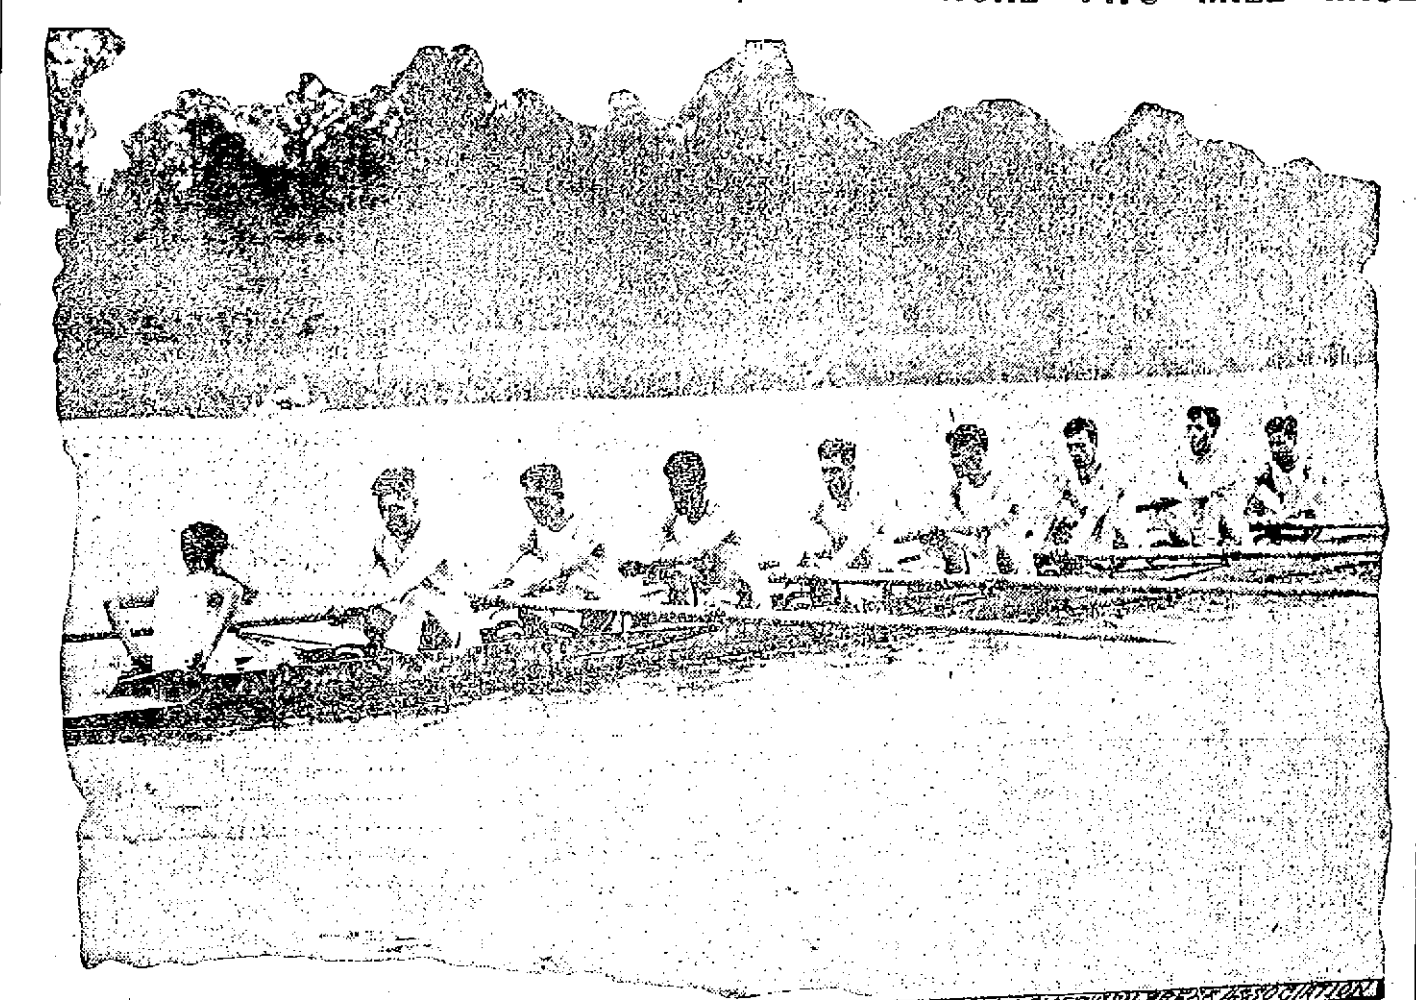

On the first ball pitched to Warwick, Lavinie received a foul tip in the stomach which put him out of business for a few minutes. Warwick struck out. Magee out to McLane. Fluharty struck out.

Ninth Inning
In the ninth Spring went in to catch for Huston. Stankard opened the ninth by hitting the ball out to centerfield for a single. Boardman sacrificed and Stankard went to second. Spring dropped the first ball thrown and Stankard went to third. Spring recovered the ball and throwing ball to third allowed Stankard to score. Smith struck out. McLane hit to right field for two bases. Loneragan hit one two for Boules to handle and he reached first while Smith went to third. Loneragan stole second. Lavinie hit to center field for a single, scoring McLane and Loneragan. Barrows let the ball get by him and Lavinie took second. Weafer struck out.

Ward went in to catch for Brockton in the latter half of the ninth. Wright hit to Smith. Boules struck out.

Final Score
Lowell 10, Brockton 9.

CORNELL'S VARSITY EIGHT READY TO MEET HARVARD ON LAKE CAYUGA, NEW YORK, FOR ANNUAL TWO MILE RACE

ITHACA, N. Y., May 25.—The varsity crews of Harvard and Cornell are ready for their annual two mile race to be held on Lake Cayuga May 27. The race promises to be the most exciting ever rowed on the course. Harvard men are sure that they will wipe out the four feats of past years and especially the Charles river a year ago. On the other hand, Cornell men say there is no reason to expect the result to be anything different this year than it has been for years back, since Cornell won the first race in 1905.

Cornell did lose one race, that of 1908, but that Cornell crew was not even in the minds of the most rapid Shrub partisan. His time was 18. 33s. Johann was a post entry and he was never in the boat, finishing about a lap and a quarter behind the leaders. Shrub and Quail, who already had met three times, with the American record, and he did it in such a convincing manner as to leave no doubt even in the minds of the most rapid Shrub partisan. His time was 18. 33s. Johann was a post entry and he was never in the boat, finishing about a lap and a quarter behind the leaders.

SHRUBB BEATEN
 Billy Quail Again Proves His Master

BOSTON, May 25.—Billy Quail of Alexandria Bay, upper New York state, proved conclusively at the American league grounds last night that he is without a peer as a professional 10 or 12-mile runner. Not only did he defeat Alie Shrub, the wonderful Englishman, at the latter's favorite distance—12 miles—but he also defeated Thure Johansson, the Swedish runner and holder of the 10-mile indoor professional record.

With great space-devouring strides he pulled the former champion back, and 100 yards from the finish Quail started one of the most sensational spurts ever witnessed in a long distance race. He fairly flew past the rapidly moving Shrub. Few professional runners who have appeared in Boston showed as much speed and reserve power as did the New Yorker, and when he flashed across the tape, a winner by 60 yards, he was immediately surrounded by the wildly cheering crowd, which broke upon the field and made a rush for the victor to carry him off on its shoulders.

BOXERS READY

For Tonight's Program at L. S. & A. Club

Freddie Maguire practically finished his training for his bout with Barney Riley, last evening when he boxed six rounds with Young Mulvey after some road work earlier in the day. He appeared fast with the mitts and in fine physical condition. Riley is reported on his arrival here this morning accompanied by John Gallant, state that he looks fit. There is great speculation in the vicinity of the North Common as to the relative merits of Young Boyle and Babe Sullivan old time rivals who will meet for the second time this evening. Both boys have improved wonderfully since their last appearance. The semi-final will be a corker for it introduces Joe Moriarty, the original "Buster" against Guy Martin, a clean-up man from South Boston who is said to be some guy with the mitts. "Reputations cut no figure with me," remarked Buster. "I'm ready to meet anyone my weight." The meeting will be for members only and the program will begin at 8:15 o'clock, at Mathew hall.

WORMS
 Unsuspected worms are the cause of numerous little things that go wrong with children. When a child is sick you rarely think that its sickness is caused by worms, yet worms, either directly or indirectly, are the cause of three quarters of all the ills of childhood. Children, and oftentimes adults, feel out of sorts, are irritable, feel listless and unrefreshed in the morning; suffer with indigestion, have a variable appetite, foul tongue, offensive breath; hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; slow fever; and often, in children, convulsions—in the majority of cases the cause of all the trouble is worms, though you may not suspect their presence.

LARCENY CHARGED

YOUTH ARRESTED

To Take Up Gypsy Moth Work

Boston Man Was Arrested by

He is Charged With the Larceny of $120

Here With Gov. Foss

Lieutenant Maher

James F. Brennan, aged 16 years, who gives his residence as 55 Butterfield street, was arrested this afternoon by Patrolman John J. McCarthy on a warrant charging him with the larceny of $120 in money the property of John P. Murphy, financial secretary of the Catholic Young Men's League. The police claim that the young man admits having taken the money.

From what could be learned this afternoon the money was the property of Mr. Murphy and not a part of the funds of the society, Mr. Murphy having left it in a desk in the League rooms.

The alleged larceny occurred about two months ago and immediately after Mr. Murphy discovered his loss he reported the matter to the police. Brennan managed to keep out of the way of the police until a couple of weeks ago when, while attempting to "jump" a freight train near the School street crossing he met with an injury and was taken to the hospital.

Since that time he has been kept under surveillance and this afternoon he was placed under arrest by Patrolman McCarthy. It is alleged that when brought into the police station this afternoon he admitted that he stole the money and said that he gained an entrance to the room by climbing a fire escape and entering through an open window.

find that spurs are being used considerably, and without a doubt to the trees' detriment. In several cases, I have noticed that spurring has been extremely detrimental; on examining the spur holes it was noticed that water had gathered there from time to time, causing decay, and quite bad cavities have resulted where the spurs have been inserted in the trees.

Quite a few complaints have been received at the office and I hope that you will refrain from the use of spurs on street trees, and those bordering on streets. Orchard trees should never be spurred. I feel that a ladder of sufficient length should be carried by each gang and that the ladders should be used to go up the trees a sufficient height, where it is not necessary for a man to spur the tree so hard; that is, where the bark is not so thick, and not so much damage will be done, and the tree will not be in an unsightly condition.

Particular attention should be given to all thin-barked trees, as maples. This does not apply to wooded areas, however, as it would be too expensive to do this in woodland work, where climbing is necessary. Hoping that you will adhere to these suggestions so that we may not be criticised along this line, I am,

Truly yours,
F. W. Rane, State Forester.

State Forester Rane called Charles A. Whittier, superintendent of parks, by telephone yesterday and told him that he was about to take up the matter of moth work in Lowell with Governor Foss.

It was stated that Mayor McElhan would go to Boston today to confer with the governor relative to the matter but the mayor did not go. "I have done all that I can," said Mayor McElhan, "and there is no reason why I should seek a conference with the governor. It looks to me as if the responsibility rested with the common council. I do not understand why the city council should delay action in the matter. It is up to the city council to get together and pass a new order. They know their responsibility in the matter and they should appreciate it."

The mayor received the following letter from State Forester Rane today:

Boston, May 23, 1911.

Mayor John F. McElhan:

SATURDAY, MAY 27th
THREE VERY CHOICE BUILDING SITES LOCATED IN THE LOWELL HIGHLANDS ON RHODORA AND WEDGE STREETS TO BE SOLD IN THREE SEPARATE PARCELS COMMENCING AT 3:30 P. M.

FIRST PARCEL
Is located at the corner of Rhodora and Wedge streets and contains about 4195 square feet with a frontage of about 30 feet on Rhodora street and of about 80 feet on Wedge street. The fact of this being a corner lot with such large frontages on two streets adds greatly to its value as a building site.

AT 3:45 P. M., SECOND PARCEL
Which adjoins the first parcel is located on Wedge street and contains about 3716 square feet.

AT 4:00 P. M., THIRD PARCEL
Adjoining the second parcel is located on Wedge street and contains about 3514 square feet.

Each of the above lots will be absolutely sold on their several premises regardless of any conditions of the weather to whomsoever will bid the most for them. They are located in one of the finest residential sections of Lowell, on land that is high, dry and level and commanding a beautiful view of the surrounding country; on streets that have sidewalks, sewer, water and gas. They are within five minutes' walk of the new St. Margaret's church, two minutes' walk of the Highland car line, five minutes' walk of the Westford street car line, and in close proximity to the Highland school, Washington school and new primary school. Since this district, known as the Lowell Highlands, has been opened up, some four years ago, there have been over thirty (30) pretty homes erected, among them being the beautiful Bagshaw residence. Now the fact that so many houses have been built within so short a time goes to prove that the location is all that could be desired, and if you are thinking of building a home for yourself and desire a location that will always be up-to-date, you should attend this sale and if you are not ready to build at present a lot in such a location cannot help but prove a good investment. Remember the day and the hour and that they will be absolutely sold for the high bid.

Terms: $30 to be paid to the auctioneer on each lot as soon as struck off.

C. F. KEYES in charge.

HEAVY RAINSTORM
PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 15.—Rhode Island was deluged by one of the heaviest rainstorms of the year accompanied by thunder and lightning this afternoon. The lightning struck a house in Phoenix, tearing off the water spout and some shingles. In about two hours this afternoon the precipitation was about 5.9 of an inch. The rain came down in torrents, flooding streets and drenching pedestrians caught in the sudden and heavy squalls.

JUDGE SCHOFIELD

Is Named for the U. S. Bench

BOSTON, May 25.—President Taft yesterday announced the appointment of Justice William Schofield of the Massachusetts superior court to the first judicial circuit of the United States court. Judge Schofield succeeds the late Judge Francis C. Lowell. He is a republican and resides at 135 Summer street, Malden.

Judge Schofield has been for many years a close friend of Senator Worcester Murray Crane. He was born in Dudley, Worcester county, Feb. 14, 1837, the son of John and Margaret (Thompson) Schofield. He was graduated from Harvard university with the class of 1879. In 1883 he received his degree from Harvard law school. From 1883 until 1889 he was instructor in torts at Harvard law school, and from 1889 until 1892 he was instructor in Roman law at his alma mater. At this point in his career Mr. Schofield married Edna M. Green of Rutland, Vt.

In 1899 he was elected to the legislature from Malden and served three years. In December, 1904, Governor Crane appointed Representative Schofield to the vacancy on the superior bench caused by the promotion of Justice Braley to the supreme court of the state.

LAWRENCE GIRL

Found in Lodging House In Lynn

LYNN, May 25.—Quick work by the policemen from Lawrence, assigned to her case, resulted yesterday in the discovery of Miss Nina Dutton, a Lawrence stenographer who disappeared from the Lynn General hospital Monday.

The disappearance of the girl was telephoned to the Lawrence police, and detectives from that city came here immediately. At noon yesterday the Lawrence police, aided by Marshal Burke's men, discovered her in a lodging house on Warren street. She is now under guard of the Lawrence officers and will be taken to that city today.

Miss Dutton, who was a patient in the Lynn hospital, as a result of alleged illegal treatment by a physician, was carried away in an automobile, according to information that was made public yesterday.

Miss Dutton had been in the hospital two weeks. Her case attracted a good deal of attention, because of the beauty of the girl and the fact that a prominent man of this city had been questioned about her case.

Immediately after Miss Dutton was sent to the hospital, it is claimed that she made a statement which caused the arrest of Mrs. Hedwig Hammer of 190 Park street, Lawrence. She was held in $2000 bonds for a hearing May 27.

Miss Nina Dutton escaped from the hospital by jumping out of an open window on the ground floor while the nurse was devoting her attention to other patients.

Her escape is thought to have been planned, for as soon as she appeared on the hospital grounds, to men jumped out of an automobile that was stationed near the hospital entrance and ran to her side and carried her to the automobile. Then all got in and sped away.

GREATER LONDON

Has a Population of 7,252,963

LONDON, May 25.—Provisional figures returned by the census officers give the population of England and Wales this year as 36,075,260, compared with 32,327,843 in 1901. While most of the cities and counties show an increase, there are many cases, particularly in Wales, where there has been a decrease.

Greater London's population has increased to 7,252,963 from 6,551,403 in 1901. This increase is entirely in what is known as the outer ring, showing that the people are moving from the crowded centers. In fact many of the old Metropolitan boroughs and the city of London proper have lost their population to the suburbs.

BOYD IS GUILTY

He Was Convicted of Manslaughter

NEWFANE, Vt., May 25.—After four hours' deliberation the jury in the case of Frank J. Boyd of Wilmington, charged with the murder of John Potter of that town, April 13, returned a verdict of manslaughter, which is punishable by imprisonment of from one to 20 years.

The case was given to the jury at 12:30 yesterday afternoon and the verdict was returned at 4:30.

Attorney-General J. C. Sargent moved for immediate sentence, but the court denied the motion.

The attorney general spent two hours at the morning session in summing up for the state and contended that the prosecution had proven murder in the first degree. He claimed that he could have escaped from Potter and that the defense had not established its claim of self-defense.

Judge E. L. Waterman's charge to the jury was to the different degrees of murder.

TELEPHONE RATES

CITY COUNCIL COMMITTEE WANTS A REDUCTION

Councilman Achin presided. Alderman Connors told the committee that he had been assured that there would be a reduction for prompt payment during the summer months.

MANY LIVES LOST

Because of the Lack of Adequate Fire Protection

NEW YORK, May 25.—Failure to appreciate the seriousness of mine fires and a lack of adequate fire protection have resulted in the loss of hundreds of lives and the destruction of millions of dollars worth of property in the last few years, according to a statement made at the annual meeting of the National Fire Protection Association this morning by Herbert M. Wilson, chief engineer of the Federal Bureau of Mines. Mr. Wilson went farther and declared that two of the most serious disasters in coal mines in the last two years, one at Cherry, Ill., in which 282 lives were lost and the other at the Pancoast mine, near Scranton, Pa., in which 74 lives were lost, originated from trivial causes and ought to have been quickly extinguished without the sacrifice of human life.

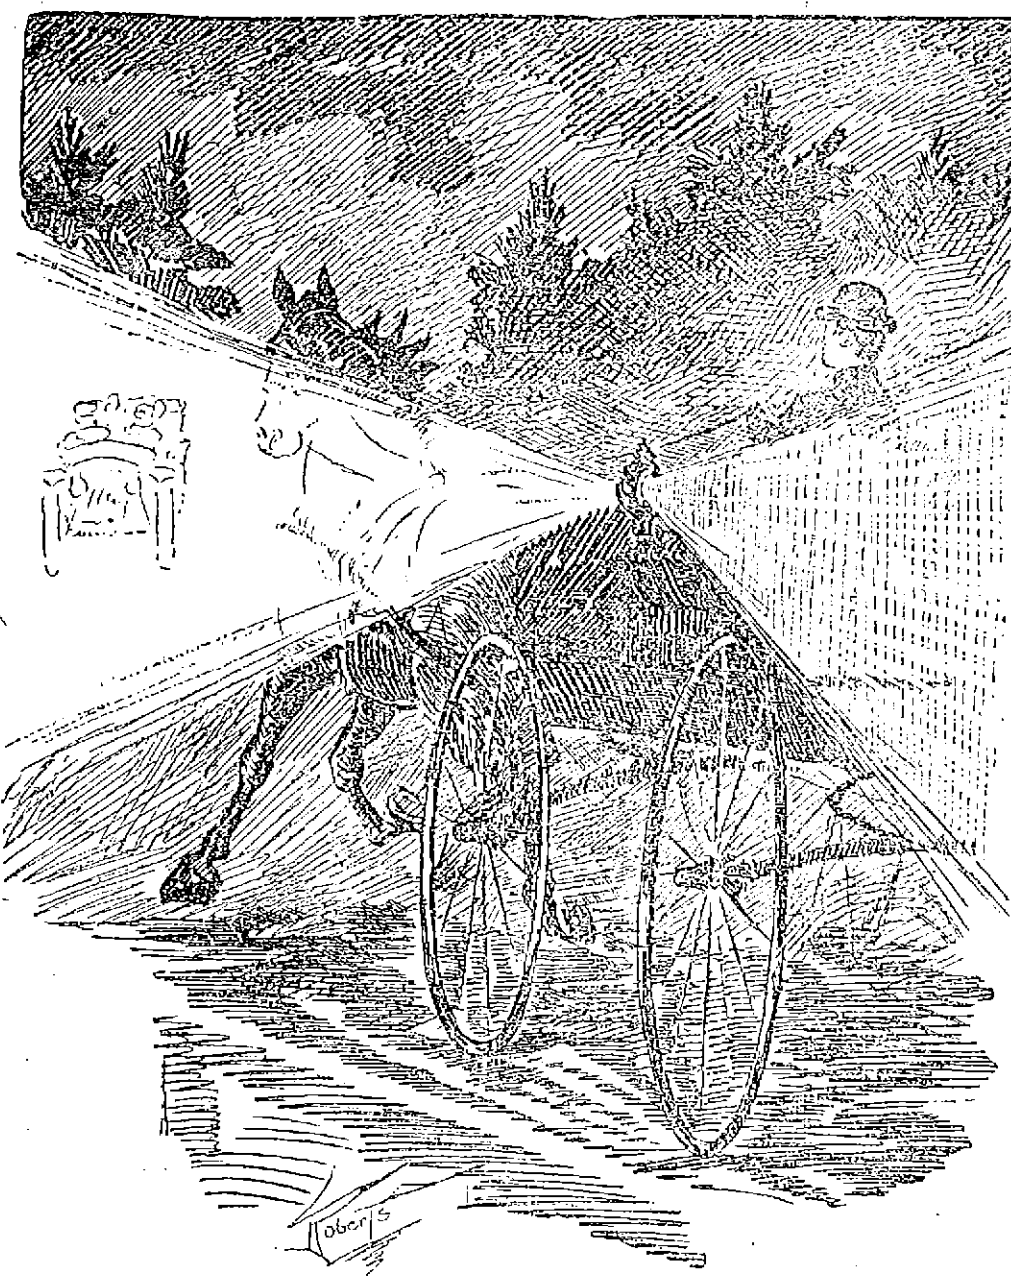

"The contact of several bales of hay with a blazing torch or an open miner's lamp," said Mr. Wilson, caused the Cherry mine disaster with its great loss of life and a total cost of one million dollars, of which $50,000 a day was spent in direct fire fighting for several days.

"The fire in the Pancoast mine killed 74 miners, left 45 widows and 137 dependent orphans. This fire is known to have started in an underground room presumably from some oil-soaked waste. The fire was not thought serious until it had been burning two hours. This delay was, in large measure, responsible for the great loss of life.

"Besides the loss of life, fires have cost much money. At Deadwood, S. D., $1,000,000 has been spent in fighting a fire in a metal mine. Today fires are raging in coal and metal mines in various parts of the country. Some of them have gotten beyond control, and have been burning for many years, devouring hundreds of thousands of tons of coal and miles of mine galleries.

One mine fire near Carbondale, Pa., has burned out such a vast area of anthracite coal in the last ten years as to result in a subsidence of the surface and destruction of surface property. Near Summit Hill, Pa., a fire which has been burning 51 years is estimated to have destroyed $25,000,000 worth of coal. Near Jobs, Ohio, a tract of coal valued at several million dollars has been burning since 1834. In some of the deeper metal mines at Butte, Mont., fires have been burning in the old mine timbers since 1859. In the Comstock vein in Nevada, thousands of feet of tunnels which had been opened and timbered at great expense are being burned out.

"The mining engineers of the Bureau of Mines have made a careful study of fires in mines, and have reached the conclusion that the introduction of comparatively inexpensive fire-fighting appliances, the adoption of proper regulations and the institution of a reasonable system of fire drills may minimize fires and confine others to a brief period of time with little damage to life and property. The engineers of this bureau have had much success in combating mine fires through the use of the oxygen helmet. This is an apparatus that entirely protects the head, and through which air is furnished artificially, thus enabling the wearer to explore the vicinity of a fire under conditions of smoke and gas that would render his approach otherwise impossible. By the use of such an apparatus a number of fires have been promptly extinguished which would doubtless have spread and perhaps extended beyond control. Chemistry, through the quick analysis of gases at frequent intervals in the neighborhood of the fire has proven a most useful adjunct in fighting fires. It seems almost unnecessary to call attention to the necessity of providing at each mine ample storage of water properly conveyed in protected pipes to possible danger points, the desirability of using larger amounts of fire proof material in place of wooden mine timbering or wooden doors, the proper disposal of waste, fire-proof man-ways and air shafts, and the use of fire-proof material as far as possible in all surface structures within 50 to 100 feet of the main opening to the mine."

DECISION RESERVED TODAY'S STOCK MARKET ONE BOY MAY DIE

In the Case Against City Institution for Savings

The case of Leon, administrator, against the City Institution for Savings, which was opened yesterday afternoon, was taken up again this morning at the session of the superior court without juries.

This is a case involving a small bank account, which was started in 1859 by Mrs. Ann McGowan of Lowell, an operative. Mrs. McGowan died some time ago, and the administrator claims that her heirs have been found. The officials of the bank are in doubt, and the suit is brought to determine the question.

Kate McGowan testified that she is the daughter of the late Ann McGowan, who, she claimed, died a few years ago. She said that previous to her death her mother had assigned half of her bank account to her.

Kate McGowan's brother and her uncle testified that they were aware of the fact that Ann McGowan, who was the mother of Kate, had a bank account at the City Institution for Savings.

After hearing the testimony, Judge Fox reserved his decision.

JUDGE PICKMAN

Says South Common Cannot be Used as Drill Grounds

Some time ago the park commission referred to the Hon. John J. Pickman, chairman of the commission, for his opinion, the question of reserving for a parade or drill grounds, for the Lowell military companies, a portion of the South common. Mr. Pickman has given his opinion and advises that a portion of the South common cannot be reserved for a parade or drill ground lawfully by vote of the city council or by the consent of the park commission, except in case of riot, insurrection, rebellion or war.

The communications having to do with the matter are as follows:

Lowell, Mass., May 15.

To the City Council of the City of Lowell.

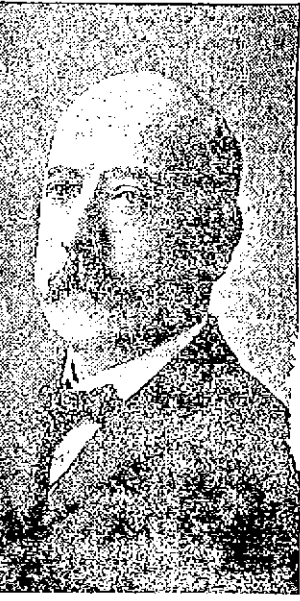

Gentlemen: The report of the joint committee on military affairs, with the recommendation therein, that certain portions of the South common be reserved for parade and drill grounds, was entered on the agenda of the city council at its meeting of May 15, 1911.

It is my opinion that section 130, chapter 604, of the acts of 1908, under the provisions of which a demand has been made on the City of Lowell for suitable grounds for parade, drill, etc., has reference to the purchase or taking of land for the specific purpose of parade and drill, and that the use of land owned and used for a public common was not contemplated by the section of the act referred to.

I advise that a portion of the South common cannot be reserved for a parade or drill ground lawfully by vote of the city council or by the consent of the park commission.

Yours very truly,

John J. Pickman.

HON. JOHN J. PICKMAN

capt. Peterson Active

Capt. George W. Peterson of Company C, Sixth Massachusetts Infantry, purposes to find out what the city will do toward the providing of a drill ground for his company and any provision made for his company, of course will include the four local companies.

Capt. Peterson called at the office of the mayor, this forenoon, and solicited the assistance of the chief executive in the matter. He suggested that certain private lands in Westford street might be engaged for drill purposes. The land in question is well out in Westford street, and is not by any means centrally located, but Capt. Peterson says that would suit the purpose all right.

Mayor Meehan said that he had referred to the city council a communication from the adjutant general relative to the city's duty in providing a drill ground for the militiamen of the four local companies, and he did not know what more he could do except to interview the owners of the land suggested by Capt. Peterson. The mayor said he was willing and anxious to do all that he could in the matter and Capt. Peterson thanked his Honor for the interview.

To the reporters, Capt. Peterson said that he was well satisfied with his interview with the mayor, but he did not know that the mayor would be able to accomplish much. "I realize," he said, "that the mayor can make recommendations, but he cannot introduce an order the city council."

"I shall immediately communicate with the adjutant general. He desires very much that we have some place in Lowell where the battalion of infantry may drill, and there seems no place except the public streets. I have long believed in the extended order drill, and I purpose to stung my command through the Highlands. The members of the Highland club have very kindly offered me the use of their lands, but they are hardly spacious enough for me to maneuver my men on. I am specially anxious to have them well trained for the encampment which opens July 25, and you can see how frankly impossible it is to give them the proper training unless we have grounds for them. The city has fully-detailed long enough with such matters. I understand that the particular section governing the matter states that the city is liable to a $500 fine unless a suitable drill ground is provided for."

Judge Pickman's Opinion

To the Park Commission of the City of Lowell.

Gentlemen: In compliance with the request of the commission to give an opinion whether certain portions of the South common could be reserved legally by the city for parade and drill grounds for the Lowell military companies, I have to state: The deed to the city of the tract of land not known as the South common does not state in terms for what use the conveyance was made. The deed contains the condition that no building shall ever be erected on the parcel of land conveyed. The land has been used for many years and is now used as a public common and for no other purpose. In the year 1909, 14 sections of chapter 28 of the Revised Laws, known as the Park act, were accepted by the voters of the City of Lowell. Section 11 provides that land taken for or held as a park by cities and towns, under the provisions of the chapter shall be forever kept open and maintained as public parks. Section 12 of the act provides that no military encampment, parade, drill review or other military evolution or exercise shall be held or performed on any park land out as stated in the act, nor shall any military body, except in case of riot, insurrection, rebellion or

Two Were Run Down by an Automobile in Everett

EVERETT, May 25.—In spite of the heroic effort of his companion to save him from being struck by an automobile, Chas. Franklin Dillaway, Jr., this 8-year-old son of Councilman Chas. F. Dillaway, was probably fatally injured on Main street, near the corner of Baldwin avenue, about 5 o'clock last night by an auto driven by George E. Hodgdon of Swampscott.

Frank Elsel, 8 years old, of 228 Main street, was the hero. He saw the quickly approaching auto before his companion and tried to pull him out of the way. Both were struck, but the Dillaway boy received the more severe blow, while Frank was hit a glancing blow and thrown upon the car tracks in front of an approaching car. Even then he had the presence of mind to grasp the feet of the Dillaway boy in an effort to pull him out of the way, but a front wheel of the auto passed over the Dillaway boy's head.

Charles sustained a bad fracture of the skull, but Frank suffered no more than a few severe bruises on his side. Fortunately the approaching car was far enough away to enable the motorist to stop it in time to prevent a second and horrible accident.

Charles Dillaway lives with his parents at 44 Everett street. When he arrived home from school yesterday afternoon he started on an errand for his grandmother to a store near Baldwin avenue. He found the store closed and while waiting for the proprietor to return he met the Elsel boy, with whom he played on the sidewalk. They were about to cross Main street when they saw a horse and wagon and an electric car approaching from Malden. The car was some distance away and they waited until the wagon had passed before attempting to cross. An automobile was behind the wagon which they did not see until they had started across. Frank saw it first and grabbing his playmate by the arm tried to pull him along, but the auto was too close for them to get out of the way.

MOCK TRIAL

WAS HELD AT THE HIGHLAND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The strawberry festival and mock trial held in the vestry of the Highland Congregational church last night was one of the most successful affairs ever held in that edifice. While the strawberries were served in "37 varieties" at the supper there were many more substantial edibles on the menu.

At the conclusion of the supper the mock trial was held and when it comes to propounding the law the "legal lights" who appeared in the case on trial presented more novel law points and arguments than ever entered into a genuine trial.

The cast of characters in the trial was as follows:

Judge ..... Walter Hadley
Prosecuting Attorney, ..... Mr. Irving Kimball
Counsel for the defense, ..... Winthrop Benne
Sheriff ..... Kenneth Gardner
Prisoner ..... Rodman Cheney
Plaintiff ..... Christopher Hertford
Foreman of the jury ..... Lester Holman
Jury, witnesses, spectators.

The Ladies' Charitable Association had general charge of the supper with the following ladies acting as the committee: Mrs. J. B. Field, chairman; Mrs. C. L. Evans, Mrs. C. M. Forrest, Miss Flora Foss, Mrs. J. E. Cheney, Mrs. C. E. Willett, Mrs. Bradt, Mrs. W. E. Sargent, Mrs. Clarence H. Hoyt, Mrs. F. A. Speare, Mrs. James Webster, Miss Blanche Craven, Miss Minnie Coburn and Miss David. Mr. Irving Kimball had charge of the entertainment.

IN POLICE COURT

Phillip J. Albert was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with being drunk. The defendant admitted that he had been imbibing more freely than wisely of late, but his wife added that he was drunk a couple of times a week and always in that condition on a Saturday night. She said he provided for her but she wanted him to quit drinking. Albert appeared in a very penitent and after promising to do better in the future was given a suspended sentence.

Indian in Court

Peter Stevens, a full blooded Indian, not connected with the wild west show, was arrested last night for being drunk, but instead of the police believing that another charge other than that of drunkenness will be preferred against him later, the case was continued until tomorrow morning.

Violated City Ordinance

Charles A. Livingston of Wilmington came in Lowell in his automobile last Thursday, and not knowing the city ordinance allowed his machine to remain in Essex street unattended for more than twenty minutes with the result that he was summoned to appear in court. He admitted that he was guilty but pleaded ignorance to the law and the court taking into consideration the fact that there was no intent on the part of the defendant to violate the law, ordered the case placed on file.

Drunk Offenders

John E. Connors, charged with being drunk, was ordered to the state farm. John McNamara and Terrence McQuade were fined $5 each.

Four first offenders were fined $2 each and several simple drunks were released.

O'REILLY GUILTY

NEW YORK, May 25.—Daniel J. O'Reilly, former assistant district attorney and well known as a criminal lawyer, particularly in the cases of Harry K. Thaw and Nan Patterson, was found guilty of receiving stolen goods by a jury in the criminal branch of the supreme court yesterday. The jury reached a verdict in an hour and a quarter. O'Reilly was remanded for sentence.

O'Reilly was charged with having negotiated for Frank L. Pless the return of $87,000 worth of securities stolen on March 2 from Aaron Benfroff, an elderly broker.

A reward of $5000 was paid for the return of the securities and the district attorney's office introduced evidence to show that O'Reilly received $323 as his share of the reward. This he denied, maintaining that he was acting as Benfroff's lawyer and in the interests of justice.

The maximum penalty for the offense is five years' imprisonment and $250 fine.

COLLEGE BOYS

Ready for Big Track Meet Tomorrow

CAMBRIDGE, May 25.—A sturdy, like set of collegians representing Cornell, Michigan, Yale, Princeton and Pennsylvania streamed out to the stadium on the banks of the Charles today for a peep at the battleground, where they, with representatives from Harvard and half a dozen other colleges, will struggle tomorrow and Saturday for the track athletic championship of the U. S. To the thousands of collegians who have jumped and hurled weights in the past 36 years the intercollegiate will always be known as the Mott Haven games, for it was in that busy suburb of New York that the games were fought out for many years until the growing population pushed the events to the Bellerose track. There they remained a few years until more crowded so they to regular college elder tracks and for the past ten years the university of Pennsylvania and Harvard have been the hosts for the event.

The present intercollegiate cup is the fourth trophy, other cups having been taken by Harvard, Yale and the University of Pennsylvania. Cornell has three legs in the latest cup, which was first offered in 1904. Pennsylvania has two grips on it while the names of Harvard and Yale appear once each on its shining shields. The trophy will go to the college which first scores five victories before 1915 and among the athletic experts Cornell is the favorite for a fourth leg. The Ithacans were the first to reach Boston and after "Fisher John" J. Moakley had whirled them out to the stadium for a look at the track and field, the party motored down to Wintthrop, where they will remain close beside the sea for the greater part of their stay here.

Michigan, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania and others will reach Boston tonight and will spend the two days except when in Cambridge in and about the hub.

Tomorrow will be devoted entirely to the trials, with wheeling out race for all dashes middle distance runs, hurdles and field events, leaving Saturday for the finals and the long distance runs.

Interest is centered in these last named races, the mile and two mile, because of the wealth of fast runners that have been developed during the preliminary season, and new records are expected in both races, while other marks may also be bettered.

Matheson, one of the pioneers in the color industry in the United States. A large attendance of the alumni and of this year's graduating class is expected, as Mr. Matheson has a world wide reputation in the dyestuff industry and is a very fluent talker.

CLEANING FLOORS or WOOD WORK WITH CARBONOL

For cleaning floors or wood-work, just put a dash of Carbonol into the pail of water when you start housecleaning. You will find that it makes an amazing difference in the work.

The Carbonol will penetrate the cracks and crannies and thereby banish insect life. It will freshen the air of the whole house destroying musty smells and killing germs.

BROTHERS MEET

AFTER AN ABSENCE OF ELEVEN YEARS

A partial family reunion in which a sick woman found two of her sons occurred a few days ago at the home of Mrs. Edward Lamb in Rock street when her sister, Mrs. McDonald, who is quite ill, met for the first time in 11 years her two sons, Edward and Thomas. Eleven years ago Mrs. McDonald was taken ill and was sent to the hospital. Her husband, becoming discouraged, disappeared leaving a family of six boys, one of whom has since died. Of the five remaining, two stayed with the mother, while Thomas, Edward and Maurice went away and all track of them was lost. Mrs. McDonald, upon taking ill, came to the home of her sister, Mrs. Lamb, in this city, and the latter, in an effort to locate the boys, inserted an ad. in the Boston papers. It was answered by Thomas, who immediately came here. He then located Edward in western Massachusetts. Thomas has been employed to locate Maurice.

KILLED HER BABES

Insane Mother Battered Their Heads With an Ax

One Child Is Dead and the Other Little Ones Are in Hospital and Have No Chance for Recovery—Mother's Mind Unbalanced by Death of Her Child

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 25.—During an insane frenzy last night Mrs. Beatrice Potter, 28, wife of James S. Potter, beat the heads of her three children, ranging in age from 13 months to 5 years, with an ax as they lay in bed. The five year old child died today. The hospital authorities say the others cannot recover. After attacking the children Mrs. Potter ran to the front window and shouted to the neighbors, saying "Come see what I have done to my babies." The women who heard her shrieks went into the house and were led by the frenzied woman to the bed where two of the children lay moaning. The woman's husband had left the house but a few minutes before the tragedy. When he left the two oldest children, Edgar L. 5 years, and Gladys, 4, were asleep in one room and the 14-months-old baby, Lillian, was in a crib in another. The mother secured the ax from the shed and attacked the children. All of them sustained fractured skulls. Mrs. Potter apparently had no realization of what she had done, for as neighbors began to gather she gloated over the horror. Two physicians were summoned and after ordering the children removed to the hospital, made an examination of the mother. They pronounced her insane and she was turned over to the authorities. The husband is prostrated. Mrs. Potter lost her fourth child at birth about three weeks ago and since that time, according to her friends, had not been quite herself. Her condition was not such as to cause any alarm, however. The husband and father is employed in a local factory and had made his home at 51 Wesleyan avenue, where the tragedy took place, for some time.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Roslin Fish Killed by a Steam Roller at Melrose

MELROSE, May 25.—Roslin Fish, aged 54 years, of 21 Waverly place, this city, was instantly killed on Main street in the square about 7 last evening by being run over by a steam roller belonging to the city. He was employed as flagman in front of the machine.

This was the first day he had worked flagging the roller and he was nearly exhausted at the time of the accident because of having walked many miles through the streets.

When the machine was going through the square to be stored in the public works building for the night Fish walked slowly in front of the machine and was so close to the front roller that pedestrians warned him to increase his pace as he was in danger of being struck.

His heel was hit several times by the roller and finally his foot was caught under it and he was thrown to the ground on his face. The machine crawled along and had crushed his right side and legs to the thigh before the engineer, Charles W. Marston, of Bechtelmeier, could put on the reverse power.

Fish was picked up by witnesses to the accident and carried to the steps of a building across the street, but he was dead when placed on a temporary stretcher. The body was viewed by Medical Examiner Roscoe D. Perley and removed to an undertaking establishment.

Fish was married and had resided in this city several years. He is also survived by a brother and sister. For three years he had been employed by the street department, but three weeks ago was laid off because of advanced years.

He was again hired this week by the public works department, and yesterday began work as flagman for the steam roller, which was being used on Lebanon street, his duty being to carry a red flag in front of the machine and warn pedestrians and teamsters of the approaching roller.

Fish was well known as an artist's model, and for many years had posed in the role of a fisherman and as other characters for artists in Boston. His

OF COURSE BABY CRIES

Just think how painful it is to have the skin chafed, and constantly irritated by acid perspiration—then you can see why many babies cry so piteously. Trained nurses say this would never happen if Comfort Powder was used in the baby's toilet. Mrs. Florence Sergeant, Portland, Me., says "Other powders did no good to my baby who was badly scalded and chafed, but since using Comfort Powder he is always in perfect condition." Comfort Powder soothes and heals. The genuine bears the signature of E. S. Sykes.

GREAT SILK SALE A DRESSY SUIT

At A. G. Pollard Co.'s Store Blue Mohair Trimmed With Braid

Every day in the year brings some kind of a sensation to our city. Yesterday it was Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, and today A. G. Pollard's mammoth establishment is the center of attraction. Ladies within a radius of twenty-five miles of Lowell have been patiently waiting for the announcement of this great annual silk sale, where 100,000 yards of the finest goods in color, design and quality from the highest silk mill in the country will be offered for sale at about one-fourth of the value. These silks sell everywhere at from $1.50 to $1.25 per yard. At this sale thirty-nine cents a yard is the anniversary price, and what a mob attended the sale. Long before the great department store was open, Palmer street side and entrance were filled with eager purchasers and in less than five minutes after the doors were opened many hundreds crowded and pushed to get inside so as to have first choice of the bargains. Automobiles from sections as far off as Woburn, Nashua, and Lawrence brought ladies eager to get their portion of these wonderful bargains.

Police were brought into action to keep back the crowd and to help in assisting to regulate matters so that the clerks might be able to attend to the wants of the customers.

For several years past the A. G. Pollard Company has taken the remnants exclusively of a large silk mill, and the popularity of the silks has been so great that the mill has correspondingly increased in its capacity of manufacturing, and turns out hundreds of thousands of yards of silk and velvet every year.

It is not known here, but it is a fact, that the A. G. Pollard Co. is the distributing agent both wholesale and retail of these goods and a number of Boston houses get their goods through the A. G. Pollard Co.

The orders received came from places as far off as California. That seems improbable, but it is positively so, and the reputation of the Pollard Company is consequently not confined to this state.

It is surprising how these beautiful fabrics can be sold at such a low figure. Foulards were never any more popular than they are now and will be for this season, so that this season's sale is even greater than any of the sales of previous years. The people remember the bargains and wait for the day, while new patrons are always coming in.

Of course silks are the great magnet that draws at this mammoth establishment today, but there are other wonderful bargains as well, judging from the way the people after purchasing silks find it to their advantage to visit other departments.

If you have never attended one of these silk sales, certainly have missed one of the greatest store attractions offered to the female portion of our community. The sale will continue until these goods are sold. It may be tomorrow, but if the rush continues the best bargains may be gone today. It is a case of rush and first come first served till the last remnant is disposed of.

CARD OF THANKS.

I take this means of expressing publicly my sincere thanks to the many friends, relatives and neighbors who so kindly assisted me by their acts of kindness, words of consolation and beautiful floral offerings in the double bereavement, the loss of my sister and her husband Mr. and Mrs. Edward Judge.

To each and all I am especially grateful and will ever remember their kindness. (Signed)

Mrs. Catherine Bailey.

Though extremely simple, this little walking costume is quite chic. The material is a very silky English mohair in a shade of dark blue, and the loose coat is lined with white satin. The wide braid and tiny crocheted buttons set in rows are black. With this suit is worn one of the new exotic salons of leghorn, with a facing of black velvet and a high shawl feather of white ostrich.

COOKERY WISDOM.

Baked milk is very nourishing and makes a good cold pudding for eating with stewed prunes or figs. Put a quart of milk into an earthenware jar, cover the top with stout white paper and place in a moderate oven. Let it bake very gently for four or five hours. When cold the milk will be as thick as cream.

If a piece of lemon rind is cooked in with a rhubarb pudding or tart it will be found a great improvement to the flavor.

OFFICE BUILDING

To be Hired Entirely by Women

An office building filled entirely with women is the latest scheme of the up-to-date feminine worker. Two years ago in Albany, N. Y., the woman's business bureau was incorporated. The president of this organization, herself a business woman of the most successful type, has interested several rich women in her plans. The bureau will supply the following workers: Accountants, artists, amanuenses, bookkeepers, cashiers, canvassers, chaplains, clerks, companions, copyists, collectors, decorators, designers, demonstrators, dressmakers, hairdressers, housekeepers, invalids' attendants, kindergartners, mothers' helpers, manicurists, nurses, masseuses, musicians, visiting milliners, multi-graphers, nursery governesses, proof-readers, packers, retouchers of photographs, saleswomen, settlement workers, stenographers, typists, trained nurses, teachers of languages, music, fine and industrial arts.

The organizer of this scheme says she could fill a building as large as the Madison Square Garden with women experts along the different lines.

There will be offices for women doctors, lawyers, insurance agents, real estate dealers, interior decorators and amusement agencies. There will also be studios for photographers, artists and musicians. Women advertising agents will see to the advertising, buy space, write ads, and do house to house collecting. There will even be new departments, like that of house hunting, which will save many weary steps.

A model employment agency will also be there where a woman engaged a cook she may sample a specimen of her cooking.

Miss Maude E. Miner of the New York Probation association, has done such good for wayward girls in her home at 165 West Tenth street that she is taking larger quarters, also on Tenth street. Several rich men interested in her work have contributed to the purchase of a new $2,500 house.

The girls who come here are nothing but children," says Miss Miner. "Young girls of 17 or 18, many of them are—who get into trouble because their homes are so cheerless and they have to work so hard, and they go to a moving picture show or a dance hall in search of a little amusement, and the men who make their living from vice and who haunt these places in search of just such victims get hold of them. These are the girls who work in shops and factories for $3, $1 or $5 a week—half off during the dull season at that. And as one young girl who was arrested on the street and referred here by the court said to me: 'You can't live on $5 a week. I didn't have enough money even to buy shoes, and I had to go ragged. I got disgusted with the whole thing.'"

Miss Miner also has a fund to send country girls back to their homes.

ATHLETIC MEET

Under Auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

One of the principal local sporting events of the year will be the annual athletic meet held under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association on the south common on Memorial Day.

Thirty cups have been offered as prizes for the winners and runners-up of the different events and this, the sixth year, will in all probability result in the largest entry list in the history of the meets.

In addition, each prize winner will be the guest of some prominent business man at the annual Y. M. C. A. banquet on June 1. The speaker of the evening at the banquet will be Lieut. Gen. Frothingham. Dr. George W. Tupper of the state Y. M. C. A. will also speak. The interest in the meet is keen throughout the city, and most of the local amateur athletes are looking forward to it with great eagerness, and the sport-loving enthusiasts are sure to see some good sport. The events are all scratch this year, which really makes it a city championship meet. Authorities on athletics are looking forward to the establishing of some new amateur records for Lowell this year, with Mullen of the C. Y. M. L. in the broad and high jumps, pitted against Croft and Andromeda of the Y. M. C. A. There is some talk of Atkinson coming back into the running game. With Atkinson, Lane and Kough in the mile run, there ought to be fast time made in this event this year. The events are as follows. All events are scratch: 100-yard dash; running high jump; one-quarter mile run; pole vault; one-mile run; running broad jump; shot put; five-mile run; one-mile team relay race, six men to run, each man to run one-sixth mile.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The Wild West Show is a great deal tamer than it used to be. It has no new features and the old are not as good as formerly.

Senator Hibbard and Rep. Marchand have done well to secure a session of the naturalization court for Lowell. There may be two sessions instead of one as two are necessary. There are hundreds of men in Lowell who have been deterred from getting naturalized by the difficulty of taking witnesses to Boston.

THE PRESIDENT DECIDES ARIGHT

President Taft has decided wisely in refusing to pardon Charles W. Morse and John R. Walsh, two of the most prominent bankers ever sent to the federal penitentiary for violation of the national banking laws, or in other words, for bank looting or grand larceny. If they were poor men who had stolen less than the thousandth part of their fleecings there would be no appeal for executive clemency. It is time the wealthy men of this country were made to feel that the jails and penitentiaries are provided for them as well as for the poor. The president's decision in this case will have some effect in that direction.

FOR THE ARBITRATION BOARD

Mr. L. F. McNamara of Haverhill has strong backing as a candidate for the state board of arbitration and conciliation. Mr. McNamara has had a business experience that should qualify him in an eminent degree for the duties of the position. He has been a cigar manufacturer in his father's shop until he became an expert mechanical engineer. Afterwards he entered the shoe business, finally becoming a manufacturer. He has served in the board of aldermen and school board in Haverhill besides representing the democratic party at various national conventions. Possessed of a judicial mind he is a man who is well informed upon the relations between employer and employee, and should, therefore, make a valuable member of any such board as that for which he has announced himself a candidate.

A LAW DEMANDED BY PUBLIC SAFETY

Senator Hibbard has had substituted for the adverse report, the bill providing that all carriages driving on the public highways at night shall be obliged to carry lights by which they may be discernible by the drivers of autos and other vehicles. The extreme need of such a law for the public safety is so obvious that those who value their safety or their lives will scarcely venture upon any public highway at night without a white head light and rear red light. One lamp would suffice for a buggy or other carriage of that kind if sufficiently elevated to be seen either in front or rear at a safe distance provided it shows white in front and red behind.

There are so many accidents due to the lack of lights on horse drawn vehicles at night, that something must be done to protect not only those who go out without a light but the autoists who are liable to run into them. Only last Sunday night we had a bad accident on the boulevard, due entirely to the fact that the carriage struck by the auto did not carry a light of any kind. It is to be hoped that the legislature will enact the bill first introduced by Rep. Marchand, but unwisely rejected by the committee. It is a public necessity and failure to place it on the statute books will result in numerous accidents and loss of life, while those who drive on the public highways will always feel a sense of insecurity so long as they are liable at any moment to crash into some carriage suddenly emerging from the darkness.

The automobile is now so ubiquitous that the other vehicles must abandon the roads at night unless they carry lights. As well permit dangerous obstructions to be placed upon the highways with impunity or unconcern as to allow any kind of vehicle to use a public highway at night without a light.

THE ALDERMEN SHOULD DECIDE

The board of aldermen having taken up the contagious hospital matter should look into the question very thoroughly so as to see which of the sites considered will best serve the interests of the city, present and future. There is no scarcity of land to warrant crowding buildings together, or too close to the public highways, and as we are a growing city, the hospital that would serve our purposes today would be too small ten years hence. The matter of sewerage should not enter into the consideration, as with the growth of the city the sewers will have to be extended far beyond the Chelmsford Street hospital, whether we have a new hospital or not.

Any new sewer extended on the city farm land can be utilized in the future for a tuberculosis hospital or other buildings. The contagious hospital commission seems to be making the mistake of supposing that our city will remain stationary as to population and development. In twenty-five years hence Lowell will be a city of about 150,000 population. For this reason, it might be expected that every municipal building erected would be so constructed as to permit of enlargement. There is a tendency to harper all our public buildings, to crowd them on a limited area, to have our streets too narrow and our public breathing places too small. Let us get away from this idea of crowding. Let us take room enough to live and enjoy life without crowding our buildings so close that they will interfere with one another. When we go into the country towns and look at the beauty of the spacious streets and the grandeur of the trees, may we not ask why can we not have some of this amplitude of street space in our city? Why permit congestion on narrow streets while there is such a plenitude of suitable land available?

If we are to have a hospital it should have ample grounds well planted with shade trees. Is there any provision or any thought of such a feature in connection with the proposed contagious hospital? That is for the aldermen to find out and for them also to determine whether any new building is to be crowded on a small space or given ample room to grow on a large area that will also permit of scenic and arboreal beautification.

SEEN AND HEARD

William Travers Jerome, New York's ex-distric attorney, said at a dinner at the Union Club:

"There is no good thing but it has its opponents. There's a man wanting to the papers now against compulsory education and against child labor laws. This man, of course, is ignorant. Ignorance is the basis of all the trouble that exists in the world, and that opponent of child labor laws and compulsory education is, without knowing it, just as ignorant as the westerner who led his gawky, overgrown son into the country schoolhouse and said: 'This boy's after learning. What's his bill of fare?'

"Our curriculum, sir," replied the teacher, "embraces geography, physiology, arithmetic, algebra, trigonometry."

"That'll do," interrupted the farmer. "That'll do. Lead him up heavy with trigonometry. He's the only poor shut in the family."

AUNT TABITHA

Whatever I do and whatever I say, Aunt Tabitha tells me that isn't the way; When she was a girl (forty summers ago), Aunt Tabitha tells me they never did so. Dear aunt if I only would take her advice— But I like my own way, and I find it so nice! And besides I forget half the things I am told. But they will come back to me—when I am old. If a youth passes by, it may happen, no doubt, He may chance to look in as I chance to look out; She would never endure an impertinent stare; It is horrid, she says, and I mustn't sit there. A walk in the moonlight has pleasure, I own. But it isn't quite safe to be walking alone. So I take a lad's arm just for safety, you know. But Aunt Tabitha tells me, they didn't do so. How wicked we are, and how good they were then. They kept of arm's length these detestable men; What an era of virtue she lived in—but stay— Were the men such rogues in Aunt Tabitha's day? If the men were so wicked—I'll ask my papa. How he dared to propose to my darling mama? Was he like the rest of them? Goodness! Who knows? And what shall I say, if a wretch should propose? I am thinking, if aunt knew so little of us. What a wonder Aunt Tabitha's aunt must have been! And her grandaunt—it scares me—how shockingly sad That we girls of today are so frightfully bad! A martyr will save us, and nothing else can. Let us perish to rescue some wretched young man! Though, when to the altar a victim I go, Aunt Tabitha'll tell me—she never did so.

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Little Daisy had a pet cat to which she was devoted. But her mother's mother feared her affection was excessive, and undertook to lessen it. "My dear," she said, "you love your pussy too much. What would you do if she were to die, for you would never see her again?"

"Oh yes, mamma," replied the little one, confidently. "I could see my pussy again when I went to heaven."

"No, Daisy," said the mother; "and—"

This attack on her childish theology was too much for Daisy. Her eyes filled with tears, but suddenly she lit up. "Certainly sir—with pleasure!" replied the traveler, heartily, and at the hour appointed presented himself for the interview with father and son.

Kirk Street Church

The Ladies' of the Kirk Street Congregational church held a strawberry festival last night at which about 200 people were present. After supper there was a pleasing entertainment, consisting of reading by Miss Leah DeGroot, of the Lowell High school, and selections by a mandolin club, also from the Lowell High school. Both of these were strong numbers and made a decided hit with the audience.

The decorations were unusually good and were largely commented upon. The prevailing colors were green and white. The candy, cake and lemonade tables were well patronized. The committee in charge of the affair was Mrs. Howard W. Foster, chairman, and Mrs. J. E. Simpson.

BULL WILL CONTEST SENATOR HIBBARD

Letters Exchanged Between Mrs. Bull and Roberta Were Read

ALFRED, Me., May 25.—Two letters exchanged by Mrs. Ole Bull and Nicola Roberta in January, 1910, relating to the mental sufferings of Miss Sarah J. Farmer, who later was committed to an insane hospital, were read at the opening of today's session of the probate court, which is hearing the contested will case of Mrs. Bull. They were read while Roberta, the Italian barber, was being cross examined by Charles K. Cobb of counsel for the will.

The first letter, written by Roberta while he was with Mrs. Farmer at Eliot on January 26, 1910, reported that he was assisting Dr. Willis and a nurse in taking care of her. Dr. Willis told him Miss Farmer was suffering mentally and advised that she go to an insane asylum. Roberta tried to control her and they took

NEW BEDFORD, May 25.—The case in which John F. Archbold of New York was sued by William Mello of Mattapoisett for damages for the death of his daughter, Guilherma, ended in the superior court, when the jury brought in a verdict of $6100 for the plaintiff. It allows $5000 on account of the child's death and $1100 for conscious suffering. The jury reached the verdict after being out six and a quarter hours.

The child was run down by the automobile owned and operated by Mr. Archbold.

VASQUEZ GOMEZ

Called Hurriedly to Mexico City

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 25.—Dr. Vasquez Gomez, diplomatic head of the revolutionists in Mexico, last night received urgent messages to come at once to Mexico City and assure the people that peace has been signed. Dr. Gomez will leave San Antonio on Friday morning. His advice is that the people hearing of fighting south of San Luis Potosi will not believe peace has been declared, thinking that the government is deceiving them.

ASKS GUARDIAN

MOTHER CONSENTS TO ONE FOR GERTRUDE QUIMBY

BOSTON, May 25.—A petition for the appointment of a guardian for Gertrude M. Quimby, the 15-year-old Latin school girl who ran away to New York, was filed yesterday in the probate office by Miss Mabelle B. Blake, secretary of the Boston female asylum, a few hours after the Quimby girl had been brought back to Boston.

Miss Blake asks that she or someone else be appointed guardian of the girl, who, the petition says, was born Sept. 5, 1897, Mrs. A. H. Werner, mother of the girl, consents to the petition. The petition will probably come up today.

Accompanied by Miss Mary C. Burdett, an agent of the Massachusetts society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the Quimby girl was brought back from New York yesterday and was taken immediately to the home of her mother at 519 Audubon road. It is said the girl refuses to live with her mother and stepfather.

"Gertrude is here, but she cannot be seen," said Mrs. Werner yesterday. "She is going out in the country to board for the present. All arrangements have been made and she will start at once, but I do not care to say where she will go."

Mrs. Werner added that Gertrude will not go on the stage for the present, at least.

Revives Bill to Have Carriages Carry Lights

BOSTON, May 25.—The senate yesterday passed the bill requiring all vehicles to carry lights on public highways at night in substitution for the adverse report of the committee.

The vote in favor of the substitution was 26 to 13. Those in favor of substitution were Senators Adams, Blanchard, Brown, Curley, Denny, Doyle, Granger, Greenwood, Hibbard, Hunt, Keith, Lomasney, Malley, Mulligan, Murray, Newhall, Pearson, Powers, Quigley, Stearns, Tully, Tushman, Tolman, Turner, and White. Opposed were: Barnes, Bennett, Chase, Evans, Gates, Halley, Hatton, Mack, Mellen, Nash, Nason, Ross and Schoonmaker.

HON. JOSEPH H. HIBBARD, Senator.

The automobile interests favored the bill. Senator Hibbard of Lowell, who moved that the bill be substituted for the adverse report of the committee, gave figures to show that in 1909 there were 244 collisions after dark and that in 1910 there were 315 collisions.

He contended that it would have a tendency to prevent many automobile accidents and that such a law was in operation in other New England States. Senator Schoonmaker opposed the bill on the ground that it discriminated against the farmer. Senator Gates contended that the law would cost the farmers of this state $250,000 and that a small lantern would be shut out by a big automobile lamp. It was contended by Senator Malley of Springfield that the law would really operate to benefit the farmer rather than to injure him.

NARROW ESCAPE

Lawrence Men Under Falling Building

LAWRENCE, May 25.—A wooden building belonging to Morris Fishman and Joseph Friedman and occupied by Joseph Pencola as a store, corner of Garden and Middle streets, collapsed yesterday, the rear dropping into a cellar which had been excavated beneath the building.

The building had been jacked up and posts placed beneath it while work was being conducted on the cellar walls. Pencola saw the building settling and he shouted a word of warning to some Italians, who were laying the wall. The men ran and escaped injury.

The floor buckled, allowing a portion of the grocery stock to roll out beneath the wall. The damage will amount to several hundred dollars.

Hair Troubles and How to Treat Them

Nature has set a limit on everything. One of these limits is that man cannot create life artificially. You read occasionally that some professor has created the lower forms of life in his laboratory, but when you run the story down to its source, you will find that the truth has not been told.

When you see a statement that tells you some nostrum will make your hair grow after the roots are dead, don't believe it, because it's not so.

When hair roots are dead, hair will not grow again. You can, however, put your scalp in such a healthy condition that the dying of hair roots can be stopped and growth be encouraged.

There are two ways to do this, and both of them should be resorted to. One way is to follow the simple life, eat plain foods, breathe fresh air, sleep eight hours every night, avoid liquors and live right generally. This will build up your constitution and improve your blood. The other thing is to keep your hair and scalp clean, because cleanliness is one of the essential requisites of health.

Keep your hair and scalp clean with Birt's Head Wash, and your hair troubles will largely be a thing of the past. You might as well give up putting secret nostrums on your hair and head under the impression that they possess some mysterious power to promote the growth of hair, because they don't do anything of the kind. Birt's Head Wash removes the dirt, disease germs, dandruff and microbes that gather on everybody's head.

Nobody is immune from these things, and the sooner people wake up to these facts, the sooner the spread of contagious diseases will be stopped.

Birt's Head Wash not only cleans the hair and scalp thoroughly, but leaves the hair glossy and soft, and the scalp in a pink, healthy condition. People have been humbugged long enough with worthless preparations for the hair that hide behind a mask of mystery. No preparation for the hair ought to be good enough for you unless it is good enough to carry the formula on the package.

The formula is on every package of Birt's Head Wash, and when you buy it you know exactly what you are getting. Here it is:

Refined Soap, Cochin Cocoon Oil, White of Eggs, Glycerin and Salicylic Acid.

In hygienic tubes 25c., at drug and dept. stores.

Sent by mail on receipt of price by the Omega Chemical Co., New York.

THE OPERA HOUSE

It was the unanimous opinion of all who attended the Opera House last evening, and there was a fair sized audience present, that "Jupiter" was one of the most enjoyable plays seen in Lowell this season. Not only was the play fine but it was presented by those two excellent stars, Richard Carle and Edna Wallace Hopper and a strong supporting company, the cast being as follows:

Robert Winthrop, an actor.
Mr. Barrett Barabatto
Major Felix Buchanan, a retired army officer.
Mr. Joseph C. Miran
Stephen Buchanan, his nephew.
Mr. Lester J. Crawford
Tobey Pebbleford, his cronies.
Mr. Will H. Philbrick
Mr. Madrudie Bright, Genevieve's cousin.
Mr. John Goldsworthy
Sillwell, under Mr. Murray Darcy
Connie Curless, a former model.
Miss Edna Wallace Hopper
Genevieve Buchanan, the Major's wife.
Miss Isabelle Winloche
Elsie Buchanan, her daughter.
Miss Helen May
Caroline Goodwillie, the professor's wife.
Miss Jessie Carlowille
Molly Pebbleford, Tobey's daughter.
Miss Ina Claire
Mrs. Anastasia Kidd, a widow, much loved by the Major.
Miss Ellen Raymond
Prof. Jupiter Goodwillie, an expert on Dermatology.
Mr. Richard Carle
The music of the play was composed by Karl Hoschna, of "Madame Sherry," "Three Twins" and "Eight Eyes" fame though it is not quite as captivating as some of these. The story is funny and so is Carle. "Himself" while Miss Hopper is decidedly bewitching. The play closed the season at the Opera House and it was a fitting and merry close.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

"The Wolf" as presented by the new Hathaway Stock company headed by Mortimer Snow and Lillian Lee Anderson, is attracting most favorable comment from all who have witnessed a performance. The management has made a most happy selection in gathering together the present company for it would be difficult to find a more clever or more evenly balanced aggregation of players. Mr. Snow's work as Jean Beauchien, the romantic young French-Canadian, is artistically done and his portrayal of the character shows intelligent study. He is ably supported by Miss Lillian Anderson in the character of "Hilda McTavish." Miss Anderson stands at the head of her profession. Mr. James Bishell is not only an eminent stage director but he is most acceptable in character parts. Mr. Royce Thayer is a character actor of note and in "The Wolf" is particularly good as "McTavish," the crusty old Scotlandman. Tom Jia's ability as juvenile man is too well known to be referred to at this time, while Mr. Belford in the heavy characters is a finished actor. The play is superbly staged and is one of the best stock productions that has been here this season. Seats for the remaining performances of "The Wolf" may be ordered in advance by telephone No. 311.—Adv.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Tonight will be Elks night at the Merrimack Square Theatre. A large delegation of the Lowell lodge and their wives have arranged to attend this evening's performance, and one section of the theatre has been especially reserved for them. The affair has been arranged in the way of a reception to John Fields, who is appearing there this week in company with Harry L. Hanson, in a laughable comedy musical sketch. Mr. Fields, besides being one of the oldest minstrel men in the country, is also numbered among the oldest Elks in the United States, having been initiated into the order many, many years ago by Tony Pastor and has always taken a lively interest in the organization.

The other numbers on the bill are added inducements for liberal patronage. Marion and Rex in their dramatic sketch "The Wolf's Power" is of exceptional merit and the Three Atlas Brothers, novel jugglers, are claimed to be the very best in their line. Jack Lyle is a good comedian and Miss Annie McMahon's singing is also of a very high class.

The daylight motion pictures for today are different from those shown earlier in the week and are of unusual interest. The series includes some of the dramatic variety, others deal with comedy while more give interesting views of foreign lands, that are instructive as well as entertaining. The baseball results of the New England American and National leagues are given here nightly.—Adv.

THEATRE VOYONS

A bit of realism that out thinks any yet shown in the climax of the picture "Close Call," shown at the Theatre Voyons today. It is a striking illustration of the changes the motion picture actors and actresses take in order to gain sensational effects. In the course of a railroad story a girl is bound helpless and laid on the tracks in front of a rapidly approaching locomotive and is saved by the train crew plucking her up while the engine goes at full speed. The comedy is a long laugh detailing the adventures of a cowboy who swaps his good horse for a perfectly useless automobile.—Adv.

A GREAT SHOW BODY OF ROBBER

Buffalo Bill Had Circus Was Found Dangling In House

Buffalo Bill with his hosts of Indians, cowboys and rough-riders of the world, those prime heroes of the American small boy, have come and gone, and we all feel better for having seen them even if we have seen them for sixteen times. Hard luck seemed to follow the show in Lowell this year even as it overtook the March 101 show last year when an Indian was drowned. This year Buffalo Bill's train was wrecked at Brookside while last night as the wagons were proceeding to Western avenue to load up, one of the horses attached to a big wagon fell down after reaching the bottom of Thorndike street hill, opposite the Richardson hotel, and broke his leg.

Over 10,000 people turned out to see the show, the bigger crowd attending at night. The program included 19 number of episodes as they were called embracing all the old time features of frontier life and some new stunts closely resembling a circus, such as a herd of six well trained elephants and some circus horses who were as gentle as the bronchos were rough. Devlin's military stunts were a new stunt taken from a circus and they were a big hit. It was a big show throughout and it is a pity that the country will miss him greatly.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The body of a man dangling from a rope in the skylight was the sight that greeted Mrs. Elias Sarut when she returned yesterday to her home in Harlem from a five weeks' stay out of town.

She stood petrified for a moment, then fled the house, returning with a policeman, who cut the body down. The man had been dead three weeks and the police declare he was a burglar. Death by strangulation had interrupted his task.

A rope was attached, one end to a chimney, the other about the man's waist. The heavy frame of the skylight, whose glass he had cut to release the inside catch, pressed its 150 pounds upon the back of his neck, which was pinned between frame and ceiling. His clenched fingers still clutched the rope tightly.

Skeleton keys and a loaded revolver were found upon the body. A postal card and a membership card in an athletic club bearing the name R. T. T. have given the police the only clues to establish his identity.

A Helpless Invalid

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is, it would almost seem, to blame for her own wretchedness. Read what this woman says:

Richmond, Mo.—"When my second daughter was eighteen months old I was pronounced a helpless invalid by specialists. I had a consultation of doctors and they said I had a severe case of ulceration. I was in bed for ten weeks, had sinking spells, and was pronounced to be in a dangerous condition. My father insisted that we try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and brought me six bottles. I soon began to improve, and before it had all been taken I was as well and strong as ever, my friends hardly recognized me so great was the change."—Mrs. Woodson Branstetter, Richmond, Mo.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read what another woman says:—

Jonesboro, Texas.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for myself and daughter, and consider it unequalled for all female diseases. I would not be without it for anything. I wish every mother in America could be persuaded to use it as there would be less suffering among our sex then. I am always glad to speak a word of praise for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and you are at liberty to use this testimonial."—Mrs. James T. Lawrence, Jonesboro, Texas.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

The testimonials which are constantly being published in the Pinkham advertisements are guaranteed to be absolutely genuine, honest, and given without reward in any way whatever.

FIRE NEAR PRISON

Convicts at Thomaston, Maine, Were Given a Scare

THOMASTON, Me., May 25.—Convicts close to the prison wall. Only the view in the state prison were given a recent heavy rain prevented a spread scare early today by a fire less than of the fire. The fire started in some 100 yards away which totally destroyed in the kitchen, destroyed the hotel and then at the inmates, of whom there were 100, attacked the stables. Warden F. B. Wiggin, 12, did not discover it until the fire had spread to the stables. The fire was well under way but all succeeded in escaping though scarcely clad. The fire started in the kitchen of the hotel which was one of the landmarks of the town, having been built nearly 100 years ago. The property was valued at $10,000. A shower of sparks fell $10,000, partially insured.

POLICE ON DUTY

To Cope With Any Further Outbreak in Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, May 25.—After the intense excitement of last night the city is in comparative quiet this morning. An official statement of the disturbances resulting in the bloody rioting that overtook the city yesterday evening places the dead at seven and the wounded at 36. Several of the wounded are expected to die. Large forces of police were on duty early today, ready to cope with any renewal of the outbreak but there were no signs of renewed disorder during the early hours.

Foreign Minister De la Barra issued an official statement this morning that President Diaz and Vice-President Corral would resign this afternoon and that the provisional government would thereupon assume authority.

Many broken windows testified today to the work of the mob last night. Along the plateglass fronts shattered were those of the W. G. Walker shop, The Aztec Land curio shop and the Tampico News Co., all Americans. Reports received today from outlying quarters show that five persons were killed at Guadalajara Tuesday night. Gov. Gallardo of the state of Jalisco, of which Guadalajara is the capital, has resigned and has been succeeded by David Gutierrez Alarido. A mob demonstration occurred at Guadalajara last night with cries for vengeance for the five persons killed on Tuesday. The outbreak was quieted when Gov. Gallardo resigned. The danger at that point is not considered over. Throughout last night there were echoes of the bloody struggle which occurred here earlier in the evening when the mob had held sway at many points, storming buildings and menacing the presidential palace until swept back by volleys from the government forces. Last night's rioting entered a wide area and at times four different demonstrations were in progress, all apparently having a common object.

The main trouble culminated after dark last night, when a mob spread through the city that President Diaz and Vice-President Corral had not resigned in accordance with public expectation. Late in the day the chamber of deputies was the first scene of clamorous manifestation and this soon spread to the neighboring quarters. Toward nine o'clock the rioting was at its height. Shouts for Madero were heard everywhere, and processions moved through the leading streets bearing huge portraits of the revolutionary leader. Efforts to check the fury of the outbreak were made by Madero's personal representative, Alfredo Dominguez. But the disorder continued, finding its chief center in front of the presidential palace. Armed themselves with rocks the mob humiliated nearby buildings, including the newspaper offices of El Imparcial and the Tampico News Co. Large forces of troops were hurried to the scene of disturbance and a cordoned off the presidential palace. Twice orders to disperse were given to the manifestants but without avail. The riotous soldiers opened fire. Immediately there was a scene of wild confusion. The more timid rioters fled to nearby streets and alleys while the leaders gave ground slowly before the advancing soldiers, who still kept up their fire. Slowly, however, the mob was broken up, forming scattered files which continued their demonstrations at various points throughout the city. The estimate of dead last night was from seven to ten but today's official report gives the casualties as seven dead and 36 wounded.

FUNERALS

UPTON—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah G. Upton took place from her residence, 34 Branch street, Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, and was largely attended. The burial was in the family lot in the Green cemetery, Carlisle, in charge of Undertaker J. B. Currier Co.

MARSHALL—The funeral of John G. Marshall was held yesterday at 3 p. m. at the Edison cemetery chapel. Rev. A. C. Ferrin officiating. The carriers were M. Earl, C. M. Dalton, S. G. Lyndon, and J. The burials were Joseph and Odilia Riopelle, Joseph Gammon, John Murphy, Arthur Tessor, and Joseph Laporte. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, Rev. Fr. Racette, O. M. I., reciting the committal prayers at the grave. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

CASHIER MISSING

Officials of Bank Say His Accounts Are Correct

SOUTHBIDGE, May 25.—A search of western Massachusetts is being made today for Ernest Hamilton, cashier of the Southbridge National bank, who disappeared from here last Tuesday. Officials of the bank say that his accounts are correct and that there will be no investigation.

That Hamilton's mind is affected is the belief of friends who are conducting the search. Three years ago while he was living in Greenfield, illness sprang from him and he was taken to a hospital. He was later discharged, but he was not the same man.

"BILLY IT" McMAHON

Breaks Up a Game in the Texas League

Lowell Boy Gets House Lot, Purse of Money, Hat and Shoes for One Bingle That Won Game in Waco, Texas

Hokey for "Billy It" McMahon, a Lowell boy and a product of the much abused South common.

Billy is now a Texas Leaguer, playing with Waco, and a few days ago what do you think he did?

He simply knocked a real home run that broke up the game.

You know what the scores call a "Texas Leaguer." A Texas Leaguer is a stingy little hit that is too far out for the infielder and too far in for the outfielder, so that the batter gets his base. Down there in Texas where the grass grows long, a home run is an oddity, and when Billy it cracked the ball for a home, here's what happened:

He gets a bunch of Bull Durham tobacco for that Bull gag is not confined to the state where the grass grows long, but all over the country. Then the fans collected 40 bucks for him, somebody else gave him a $5 Knox d. by, he gets a five dollar pair of shoes and finally a real estate firm presents him with a house lot worth $500 where he can build a bungalow and bring the folks down from ward five for the winter, where there's a chance for a demoral to play a winner once in a while.

The Waco Daily Times Herald has Billy's name heralded all over the sporting page and here are a few extracts:

"With the scored tied, Fort Worth's hall of the ninth inning played, two men down and two strikes on him, McMahon hit the ball a terrible swat yesterday, drove it to right field fence, through Moore's canvas, and it sailed in where it was lost till Mack crossed the plate with the winning run."

It was an exciting, sensational finish of a most remarkable game, featured by close plays, hair-raising stunts in the field and superb pitching.

"Never" perhaps, in the history of baseball, was a game won under such circumstances as that of yesterday. It could not have been won in that inning perhaps in any other way. If the ball had not been lost, that is, if it had rebounded from the fence, McMahon would probably have made second base. That was the sixth hit off Deardorff, scattered through nine innings. It is not likely that the pinch hit necessary to score the desired run would have been forthcoming, hence it may be said that luck favored us in a pinch and gave the game to Waco.

Further along in its story the Times-Herald says:

The winning run was made in the last half of the ninth, as briefly described in the beginning. Carson was first up and fanned. Wohltjen came up with instructions to lay it down and beat it. He laid it down all right, a tantalizing slow roller down third base line. Snapp came up for it, scooped it up and without checking his speed shot it to Rittler, beating Wohltjen by one bound.

McMahon had hit a fly to center in his former trip and eager fans called for a home. He swung hard at two and missed. Deardorff had shot a couple of wide ones outside and sought to elude Mack on the third ball, but the little fellow stepped into it and the heretofore shot out in the direction of Lorenz. Brann by the remarkable force of Moore's throw, hit McMahon in the center of the town at 4 a. m. today and toppled into the Winnesaukee river, derailing four other cars in their plunge and ripping up the track where it crossed the bridge. No person was injured by the accident.

CHARM AND ELEGANCE OF TRUE BEAUTY

(Followed in Fashion)

"Every woman delights in a velvety skin and fine complexion, but few realize the harm done the skin's delicate surface by smothering it with powder or cosmetics," writes Miss Stillwell in Fashion.

"A mayatone lotion gives grand results and is quickly prepared by dissolving a small original package of mayatone in eight ounces of witch-hazel. Massage this freely into the skin every day and you will be surprised how soon it is cleared and beautified, while the complexion takes on the charm and elegance of true beauty."

"Nothing equals mayatone to protect the skin from changeable weather, tan or freckles. It is easier to use and more satisfactory than powder, is greaseless and will not grow hairs."

Jolly was right under the ball when it struck the fence and thought it went through it. Center Fielder Howard ran up and began feeling about the canvas and finally located the ball, tore the cloth, snatched it out and returned it to the diamond. But McMahon had crossed the plate and the game was over.

In the Diamond Notes the Times-Herald says:

The fans made up a purse for McMahon for winning the game yesterday. The exact amount could not be ascertained, but it is said to be between $50 and $100. He also gets a prize from Herz Bros., and from the Bull Durham company for the home run.

SHOOTING AFFRAY

Three Men Were Badly Injured

DENVER, Colo., May 25.—An argument that started in a box party at the Broadway theatre and was continued in the barroom of one of Denver's fashionable hotels last night, developed into a shooting affray in which St. Louis Von Puhl, an aeronaut of St. Louis, A. Atkinson of Colorado Springs and G. E. Copeland of Cripple Creek, Colorado, were wounded by Frank Henwood, local representative of a New York business concern. Henwood was arrested.

Atkinson and Copeland were not concerned in the quarrel, although they had been with the party all evening. Just how the trouble originated has not been explained.

Von Puhl, from a cursory examination made by the police surgeon was shot four times and in a serious condition. Copeland and Atkinson each sustained two wounds but they are not fatal.

CHICAGO POLICE

Search for Murderer of Elsie Sigel

CHICAGO, May 25.—Information received by Chief of Police McWeney that Leon Ling, the alleged murderer of Elsie Sigel in New York about two years ago was hiding in Chicago, caused a systematic search to be started last night of all the Chinese laundries in the city. The information was given to the chief acted came from D. B. Loudon, a Chinese mission worker at Muskogee, Okla. Loudon wrote the chief that one of his Chinese boys who formerly lived in Chicago told him that Ling conducted a laundry at West North avenue and Dallas streets. A detective with Chinese interpreter went to the address given by Loudon, but no Chinaman answering Ling's description was found there. Several other laundries were visited last night and the search will be continued until every Chinese establishment in the city has been explored.

No person was injured by the accident.

UNITARIAN CONVENTION

BOSTON, May 25.—A varied program was arranged for the delegates to the Unitarian convention during the morning hours. After the customary prayer service which was conducted by the Rev. E. M. Miss Sara J. Robinson, Box 53, Atkinson, N. Y., writes: "My father, who is a stone-cutter by trade, used to feel worse in the spring of the year than when he was down in the full of winter. ## ASCENSION DAY

Holy Day of Obligation in Catholic Church

Today is the feast of the Ascension, a holy day of obligation in the Catholic church and masses were sung in all the local churches this morning while vesper services will be held this evening. Early masses were sung for the accommodation of the working people, and in all of the churches there were large congregations.

St. Mary's Mission

The parishioners of St. Mary's parish, Collinsville, are most enthusiastic over the centing mission which will open for the women next week and be followed by a week for the men. The mission will be conducted by a Jesuit Father and it is the first real mission of the comparatively new parish. In the old days when Collinsville was part of St. Michael's parish, Fr. Shaw always saw to it that when a mission was held at St. Michael's the missionaries went to Collinsville for a few days to minister to the people of that

SPRING'S BAD THROW

Lost Game for Lowell in the Ninth Inning

Owing to the miserable weather and the fact that the attendance at the game was the smallest of the season at Spaulding, the game was postponed until yesterday when it was played. The game was a close one, with the home team leading in the ninth inning, but a bad throw by the pitcher, who was not in the best of health, cost them the game. The game was played at 1:30 o'clock yesterday. The attendance was about 1,000. The game was a close one, with the home team leading in the ninth inning, but a bad throw by the pitcher, who was not in the best of health, cost them the game.

First Inning
The visitors started the scoring right off the bat and sent one man over the plate in the first half of the inning. Hendricksen swung the willow with great might but he fanned the gentle zephyrs every time and was retired on strikes. Connoughton slammed the ball but the sphere went skyward and dropped into Moulton's glove and there were two out. Stankard, the heavy hitter of the team, sent the ball over Barrows' head and out to the center field fence for three bases and a minute later Boardman scored him with a single to right field. Smith hit in front of the plate and failed to reach first.

Every member of the team went to bat in the latter half of the first inning and four runs were scored. Weafer, the pitcher, who defeated Lowell the last time that the teams met in this city got his humus in the first inning being hammered for five hits with a total of six. Moulton drew a free pass and Barrows went on a fly to Smith. Warwick hit the ball to Loneragan who threw to first but Warwick traveled faster than the ball and was safe. Magre hit over second base. Connoughton knocked the ball down but he sent it in the wrong direction and before he could recover it the runner was safe and the bases were filled. Fluharty hit by Stankard into right field, scoring Moulton and Warwick. Magre going to third. A wild pitch resulted in Magre scoring and Fluharty going to third. Wright sent the ball over second and Fluharty. Bouites flew to Laverne and Boston followed with a single, but Weafer hit to Weafer and failed to reach first.

Second Inning
In the second inning McLane struck out Loneragan hit to Fluharty. The latter threw to first and the runner was safe. Laverne fouled to Loneragan and Fluharty forcing Loneragan at second. In the latter half of the second inning Moulton hit to Loneragan and did not reach first. Barrows hit the ball for a single but Warwick struck and Magre hit to Connoughton and was out at first.

Third Inning
Stankard and Boardman started the fireworks in the third inning and as a result of their heavy hitting two runs were scored. Hendricksen fouled to Bouites and Connoughton was second out, being retired on strikes. Stankard sent the ball to right center field fence for three bases and Boardman hit it out to left field fence and Stankard scored. Smith scored. Boardman with a single, the ball being too hot for Weafer to handle, though the latter made a good attempt to bring it down. Smith then stole second.

Fourth Inning
Neither side scored in the fourth inning. Laverne opened with a fly to Magre and Weafer hit to Weafer and was retired at first. Hendricksen singled and stole second. Connoughton struck out for the second time. In the latter half of the fourth inning Moulton fled to Smith. Barrows hit to Stankard and was out at first and Warwick hit to Weafer and was thrown out at first.

Fifth Inning
Brookton tied the score in the fifth inning. Stankard who made two three-baggers, appeared for the third time and rapped out a single to left field. He went to second on Boardman's sacrifice. Smith fled to Weafer and Stankard went to third. McLane singled over second base scoring Stankard. Loneragan hit to Bouites and never reached first. Lowell scored another run in the latter half of the fifth. Magre opened with a three bagger to the left field fence and Fluharty followed by hitting to Loneragan and being retired at first. Magre and Wright then executed a rather novel squeeze play. Magre, who was on third, started for home and Weafer pitched the ball wide so that Wright, who was at bat, could not strike it, but before Laverne could reach the sphere Magre crossed the plate. Fluharty singled to right field. Bouites knocked out a two-bagger, but Loneragan fled to Loneragan and Weafer hit to Loneragan and was out at first.

Sixth Inning
Laverne and Weafer sent grounders to Moulton and were retired at first. Hendricksen knocked out a grounder but beat the ball to first. Connoughton fled to Bouites. Another run for Lowell in the latter half. Moulton hit to Loneragan and was out at first. Barrows singled to right center field. Warwick hit to Loneragan and being retired at first. Stankard hit to Weafer and was out at first. Fluharty hit to Weafer and was out at first. Fluharty hit to Weafer and was out at first.

Seventh Inning
The visitors went out in one, two, three in the seventh inning. Stankard then to Barrows and Boardman and Smith sent grounders to Moulton and were retired at first. Another run for Lowell in the latter half. Wright opened with a strikeout and Bouites hit to Weafer and was out at first. Huston singled and Weafer walked to first base after being hit by a pitched ball. Moulton singled to center field scoring Huston. Barrows was third out, being retired on strikes.

Eighth Inning
In the eighth inning McLane struck out Loneragan hit a red hot grounder to Weafer who stepped it and three runs out. Laverne got a single by third. Weafer hit to right field for two bases scoring Laverne. Hendricksen hit to Fluharty and Wright at first base dropped the ball allowing Weafer to score. Connoughton struck out. On the third strike Huston split his finger.

DIAMOND NOTES
Brookton again today.
"It was a tough game to lose." And so say we all of us.
O, the Spring had come, but the flowers didn't bloom.
A third strike in the eighth inning split Harry Huston's finger, but Harry held on to the ball.
The Brookton team is full of life and harmony.

That boy Stankard makes more outfielders tired than any other player in the league. The only way to play Stankard is to back up against the fence and come in if you have to. Generally he puts them out to the fence.
Stankard and Boardman worked together like clock-work.
Brookton came within an ace of winning a triple play in the third and it was they made a double and put Lowell in the humiliating position of having three on base with none out and yet failing to score.

Wolfgang had Frank Connoughton's goat from the start. With everybody else watching the ball, Connie fanned three times.
Eddie McLane's timely stick work was a factor in Brookton's success.
Young Loneragan is some short stop.

Jimmie Magre's steal home was classy. Weafer sent the ball so wide that Fluharty couldn't bunt nor could Laverne get to the plate ahead of Magre.
Conney will be back at short today and things will look different.
Jake Bouites stopped a grounder back of third base and threw to first in a manner that made even the Tim Murnane of Lawrence street sit up and take notice.

Wolfgang was there with his usual fine fielding game.
Just as Pitcher Sheridan was about to leave for Frederick, N. B. he received transportation from Calgary and left for the northwest. Bill Duval took his place and went with Dugan to Frederick while Joe Farrell, a Lowell boy accompanied them.

SHRUBB BEATEN

Billy Queal Again Proves His Master

BOSTON, May 25.—Billy Queal of Alexandria Bay, upper New York state, proved conclusively at the American league grounds last night that he is without a peer as a professional 10 or 12-mile runner. Not only did he defeat Alfie Shrubbs, the wonderful Englishman, at the latter's favorite distance—12 miles, but he also defeated Thure Johansson, the Swedish runner and holder of the 10-mile indoor professional record, in a three-man match race, and he did it in such a convincing manner as to leave no doubt even in the minds of the most rabid shrubb partisans. His time was 1h. 7m. 33s. in the 12-mile race, and he was never in the hunt, finishing about a lap and a quarter behind the leaders. Shrubbs and Queal, who already had met three times, with the American recordman as many victories, set a fast pace from the crack of the gun, and Queal, almost unconsciously, displayed his superiority over the great little Briton several times in the early miles. Notwithstanding Queal's prestige by virtue of his successive victories and his apparent superiority, Shrubbs' backers were clamoring for wages as late in the race as the 6th mile, when in desperation they offered out of $9 to $5 on their part of accepting the wagers, however, as the odds offered did not appear consistent with the running of the men and not a bet was registered. Then, after allowing Shrubbs to lead him by margins varying from one yard to 75 yards in the seventh, eighth, ninth and 10th miles, Queal demonstrated his worth. With apparently the utmost ease he overhauled Shrubbs any time he wanted to and led by a slight margin at the end of the 11th mile.

Beginning the 12th and last mile Shrubbs rushed to the front. The Englishman led throughout the first five laps, but never by more than 10 yards, which was the advantage he had when the final sixth-of-a-mile circuit was started. I jaway around the track Shrubbs had opened up 40 yards, but coming to the homestretch the New York lad let out a few links. With great space-doubling strides he pulled the former champion back, and 100 yards from the finish Queal started one of the most sensational spurts ever witnessed in a long distance race. He fairly flew past the rapidly moving Shrubbs. Few professional runners who have appeared in Boston showed as much speed and so close power as did the New Yorker, and when he flashed across the tape a winner by 50 yards, he was immediately surrounded by the wildly cheering crowd, which broke upon the field and made a rush for the victor to carry him off on its shoulders.

AN UNUSUAL CASE

Contest Over the Haviland Property

BOSTON, May 25.—A very unusual situation arising from the relations of Mary Haviland and her cousin, Henry Haviland, came to light yesterday through a controversy between the heirs of each for a share of property left to her under the will of her father, Thomas Haviland, who died in 1873. Proceedings in supreme court, were brought by Moses Williams et al. trustees under the will of Thomas Haviland, against Mary H. Brocklesby of Newton for a construction of the will of Mrs. Williamina Eaton Fleming, who was connected with the astronomical observatory for many years and the second wife of the estate of Mrs. Gray Shaw of Boston. The greater part of the Fleming estate goes to the university for use of the astronomical observatory, while Mrs. Shaw leaves $35,000 as a fund, the income of which is to enable one or more graduates to visit Europe immediately upon the completion of their studies in order to complete their education.

LARGE BEQUESTS

Harvard Gets Quite a Sum of Money

CAMBRIDGE, May 25.—Funds by bequest flowed into the treasury of Harvard University from two sources today, the first furnished by the will of Mrs. Williamina Eaton Fleming, who was connected with the astronomical observatory for many years and the second from the estate of Mrs. Gray Shaw of Boston. The greater part of the Fleming estate goes to the university for use of the astronomical observatory, while Mrs. Shaw leaves $35,000 as a fund, the income of which is to enable one or more graduates to visit Europe immediately upon the completion of their studies in order to complete their education.

WORMS

Unsuspected worms are the cause of numerous little things that go wrong with children.

When a child is sick you rarely think that his sickness is caused by worms, yet worms, either directly or indirectly, are the cause of three quarters of all the ills of childhood. Children, and oftentimes adults, feel out of sorts, are irritable, feel listless and unfresh in the morning; suffer with indigestion, have a variable appetite, foul tongue, offensive breath; hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; slow fever; and often, in children, convulsions—in the majority of cases the cause of all the trouble is worms, though you may not suspect their presence.

LITTLE CANADA BOXERS READY

For Tonight's Program at L. S. & A. Club

Freddie Maguire practically finished his training for his bout with Barney Riley, last evening when he boxed six rounds with Young Mulvey after some road work earlier in the day. He appeared fast with the mitts and in fine physical condition. Riley is reported in fine shape and those who saw him on his arrival here this morning accompanied by Johnnie Gallant state that he looks fit. There is great speculation in the vicinity of the North Common as to the relative merits of Young Boyle and Babe Sullivan old time rivals who will meet for the second time this evening. Both boys have improved wonderfully since their last appearance. The semi-final will be a corker for it introduces Joe Moriarty, the original "Buster" against Guy Martin, a clean-up man from South Boston who is said to be some guy with the mitts. "Regulars cut no figure with me," remarked Buster. "I'm ready to meet anyone my weight." The meeting will be for members only and the program will begin at 8:15 o'clock, at Mathew hall.

Land for Proposed Park Was Inspected Yesterday
The committee appointed by the city council to consider the advisability of locating a park and playground in Little Canada viewed the land of the Locks and Canals corporation, off Aiken street, yesterday afternoon. The committee comprises Aldermen Toupin and Rountree and Councilmen Achin, Crowder and Chadwick. A portion of the site is now occupied as a playground, the city being a tenant at will of the Locks and Canals corporation. Alderman Toupin, who is chairman of the committee, stated that there are altogether 12 acres contained in the tract. This included some unfilled land along the river bank. Mr. Achin favored taking the land now comprising the present playground, with a frontage on Aiken street. The total area is assessed for over $25,000.

In the course of the afternoon Albert S. Howard appeared, explaining that he represented the Neerbach heirs and that they desired to sell to the city, for park purposes, land on the opposite side of the river, with an entrance at Island street. In the tract are 183.18 square feet, and the price asked is $6315.79. Messrs. Rountree and Crowley favored this site, but it was explained that the committee was named to consider a playground and park in Little Canada and not in Centralville. A meeting was held on the park ground and it was voted to request an interview with H. O. Mills, engineer of the Locks and Canals corporation, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
